Two Planes Crash into Houses

ELEVEN MEN, including two civilians, lost their lives when a B-50 bomber crashed into a farmhouse near Dayton, O., and exploded. The farm home, barn and garage burned to the ground. The ruined auto can be seen left foreground. An area the size of a city block was torn up. (International)

(By The Associated Press)
The Air Force today was investigating two accidents in which bombers crashed into farm buildings yesterday.

One involved a B-50 Superfortress in which 11 persons were killed when the big ship fell near Dayton, destroying a farm house and barn.

The second was in Missouri where four crewmen died as a six-engine B-47 jet smashed into a small farmhouse.

The Ohio farm home was unoccupied. A mother and her son miraculously escaped serious injury in the mishap near Knob Noster, Mo.

Mrs. Clay Curtis and her son, Danny, 14, were in the dining room of the four-room house. Danny, ill with the flu, was lying on a couch in his pajamas. Suddenly they heard a terrific roar.

"That must have been an airplane," Danny recalled saying to his mother. Then the big ship came hurtling into the house, setting it on fire.

Mrs. Curtis and her son suffered only minor burns. The home was destroyed.

The big four-engine B-50 crashed and burned on a farm south of Dayton after taking off from Wright-Patterson AFB where the craft was based.

At least five eyewitnesses saw the plane dive toward earth, one engine "a ball of fire," and plow through the unoccupied farm home. A series of explosions ripped it apart and scattered wreckage over a nine-acre area.

Red Cross Campaign Gets Under Way Here

With the opening of the Red Cross campaign to raise $10,000 in Fayette County slated to open on the house-to-house basis Thursday, the plans for all phases of the campaign were gone over step by step by the executive board at its regular weekly meeting office Monday afternoon.

Don Gibson, the general chairman, told the board that everything was progressing according to plan. The industrial solicitation under the direction of Joe Peters, the new chapter president, and the business solicitation under the direction of Tom Mark, are both progressing satisfactorily, Gibson reports.

These two phases of the campaign, he pointed out, were started a little ahead of the more extensive residential canvass again this year as they have been for several years in the past.

The solicitation in the rural sections of the county is being handled by the largely by the four Lions clubs at Bloomingburg, Good Hope, Jeffersonville and Washington C. H.

Presidents of the clubs, Gibson said, are in direct charge of the campaigns by their clubs. Gordon Cowdery is president of the Bloomingburg club; Eldon Long of the Jeffersonville club; Earl Rea of the new Good Hope club and Dustin Gorton of the Washington C. H. club.

Ike's 'Big Decision' May Be Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will hold a news conference at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow, his regular hour for meeting the press. White House Secretary James C. Hagerty said he "wouldn't know" whether Eisenhower will announce his second term intentions at that time.

Hagerty also told reporters he did not know whether Eisenhower planned to make a radio and television appearance later tomorrow. That is a step the President is generally expected to take after any announcement of a decision on the second term question.

Asked if there was any plan at present to ask for such broadcast time, Hagerty said:

"I haven't any comment on that at all."

The press secretary said in reply to further questions there are no plans for Eisenhower to hold a second news conference tomorrow.

This question was prompted by speculation that Eisenhower might hold up any announcement on the big question until after the 3:30 p. m. closing of the New York Stock Exchange.

Midwest Skies Clearing, Cool

CHICAGO (AP)—Skies cleared and temperatures dropped in most sections of the mid-continent today.

The cold air from Canada spread southward into the Great Lakes region, Mississippi and Ohio valleys and Southern Plains. Temperatures were as much as 20 to 25 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier in some areas.

The northern Midwest region reported below zero readings in many sections of the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Lowest marks were in Minnesota, averaging around 10 degrees below zero in the northern two thirds of the state.

Lions campaigners are to be taken care of by a special committee of canvassers.

Boycott Of Buses Due To Continue

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A Negro minister indicted in Montgomery's bus boycott told a cheering throng at a mass meeting last night that "no city in the world can afford to make criminals out of 24 of its preachers."

This declaration by the Rev. L. R. Bennett came after church groups in other sections of the nation expressed concern over the arrest of 24 Negro ministers here for leading the protest against segregation on city buses.

Rev. Mr. Bennett, pastor of the Mount Zion African Methodist Episcopal Church, together with other indicted Negro clergymen, spoke at a meeting marking the end of the boycott's 12th week. The audience cheered when their leaders promised to continue the protest movement.

A group of Protestant pastors at Princeton, N. J., called for a prayer meeting there Friday restricted to ministers only. The Rev. William L. Tucker, president of the 10-member Princeton Pastors Assn., which includes three Negroes, said the service will conclude with an offering to be sent to Montgomery Negro ministers.

In St. Albans, Vt., the West Virginia Council of Churches expressed "unhappiness" over the indictments here.

The council, representing 13 Protestant denominations with a membership of 350,000 persons, said in a letter to Mayor W. A. Gayle of Montgomery:

"We share widespread unhappiness over the current grand jury indictment of scores of your citizens. We feel that, even under your law, these citizens have a 'just cause' to uphold. Therefore, we cannot think they are guilty of a conspiratorial crime."

St. Marys Man Drowns In River

TIFFIN (AP)—Construction worker Charles Hole, 26, of St. Marys, fell into the rain-swollen Sandusky River today and drowned while working on an Ohio 224 bypass project south of here.

Hole was an employee of the Harper Supply, Inc., of Napoleon. He had three small children and his widow is expecting a fourth. His body was not recovered immediately.

Missing German List Still High

BONN, Germany (AP)—The German Red Cross said today that it had been able to clear up the fate of only 156,715 of the 1,400,105 members of the German armed forces reported missing in World War II.

Over 100,000 were known to be dead while 50,000 were reported to have been taken prisoner. But it was not known how many were still living.

JURY IS SEATED FOR TRIAL

Baldrige Farm Shooting Scene Is Visited First

Progress Of Trial And Few Spectators Are Big Surprises

Five women and seven men, plus a man for the alternate, were seated on the jury to try George Baldrige for the second degree murder of Game Protector Irvin J. Patrick last Nov. 15, before court was recessed for noon Tuesday, the second day of the trial in Common Pleas Court here.

Then at the start of the afternoon session, the jurors were taken to the Baldrige farm on the Prairie Pike to look over the place where Baldrige is alleged to have shot Patrick after he had arrested, D. B. Butler of Adams County, for possession of a hen pheasant.

Bundled up against the biting winter wind, the jurors left the Court House about 1 o'clock, accompanied by Court Bailiff David Whiteside.

Baldrige came into Washington C. H. right after the shooting and went to the sheriff's office. Sheriff Orland Hays said Baldrige admitted holding the gun when Patrick was shot, but added that he had insisted it was discharged accidentally.

On the jury that will decide whether the shooting was an accident or second degree murder are Helen R. McFadden, H. C. Flee, Grace Patch, Constance G. Pyle, Chester West, Jeanette Coffey, Nellie Fogle, Clark Sheppard, Donald L. Lange, Orville Oty, Frank E. Coe and Charles M. Smith. Orville Clark is the thirteenth juror seated to take part in final deliberations in case one of the 12 regular jurors should be unable to serve throughout the trial.

The state exercised two of the four possible peremptory challenges and the defense three.

THE SPEED with which a jury was seated tentatively for this trial has been somewhat surprising.

By comparison: In the John Southard first degree murder trial a year ago, it required several days to seat a jury from a total of 182 veniremen in four special venues. However, in that case many jurors were excused at once when they stated they did not believe in capital punishment, a thing not involved in the Baldrige case.

Second only to the speed with which the jury was seated, the big surprise was the few spectators who have been in the courtroom for the first two days of the trial.

After the jury returned from the scene of the shooting, the trial was to be resumed in the Court House with the opening statements of the State and defense to be made first.

After that, the taking of testimony from the witnesses is to get underway.

The defense removed Ethel Wilson on peremptory challenge, and Charles M. Smith, nineteenth juror, was called, questioned, and seated.

There being no further challenges, the 12 jurors were formally sworn in at 11:15 A. M.

Then the work of obtaining the thirteenth juror was started, and Dorcas Holdren, residing near Good Hope, was the first one called. She said she had a definite opinion, but said she would try to overcome this. The defense challenged her for cause and she was dismissed.

Orville Clark, Waterloo, 21st venireman, came through the questioning without challenge, and was seated as the 13th juror. He was sworn in accordingly.

WHEN COURT opened Tuesday morning at 7:10 A. M., only four spectators were in the courtroom and by 10:30 A. M. there were only 15, leaving many vacant seats for spectators — the limit being 64.

Scarcity of spectators has been one of the unusual features of the Baldrige case, but with the taking of evidence the number is expected to increase.

As 12 jurors had been seated tentatively, the exercising peremptory challenges was started as soon as the preliminaries incident to the opening of court had been disposed of.

Each side had four peremptory challenges, or in other words, each side could remove, without question, four of the jurors tentatively seated, if so desired.

It was also stated by Judge John P. Case that each side has two peremptory challenges in seating the thirteenth juror.

The State was entitled to exercise the first challenge and re-

WHILE JUDGE JOHN P. CASE (back to camera) looked on, jurors who will try George Baldrige for the second degree murder of Game Protector Irvin Patrick filed out of the Court House to the bus that took them to the Baldrige farm on the Prairie Pike where Patrick was fatally shot the morning of Nov. 15. On the jury are Helen R. McFadden, H. C. Flee, Grace Patch, Constance Pyle, Chester West, Jeanette Coffey, Nellie Fogle, Clark Sheppard, Donald L. Lange, Orville Oty, Frank E. Coe, Charles M. Smith and Orville Clark, the 13th, or alternate, juror. (Record-Herald photo)

14 Are Killed in Train Crash; One Train Plows into Another

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (AP)—A four-car Boston and Maine commuter train ploughed into a second train, halted outside the station yard here today, with a heavy toll of dead and injured.

At least 14 were killed, and a police officer at the scene said the toll might reach 20. Scores were injured in the collision which came in a blinding snowstorm.

The rear car of the halted train was splintered and turned over. The lead car of the four-car train of diesel-propelled Budd high-liners was torn open "like a watermelon," said one witness.

About a thousand passengers were reported on the two trains. Ambulances and doctors were summoned from as far away as Boston to carry the victims to hospitals.

A Portsmouth, N. H., to Boston seven-car stainless steel streamlined train plowed into the rear of a halted Danvers to Boston four-car train with the rear car of the latter crumpling under the blow.

It was in that car that most of the dead were riding. The first car of the Portsmouth train was split open by the impact.

Heavy snow was falling as the commuter-laden trains crashed. Edward Pennington, a reporter for the Lynn Item, told of seeing 13 bodies.

In the first batch of 25 injured taken to the Lynn Hospital were many reported critically injured. The hospital summoned about 75 nurses.

Other victims were taken to Marblehead and Salem hospitals and Union Hospital, Lynn.

The Boston Red Cross blood center sent a shipment of 50 pints of blood to the Salem Hospital, and prepared to make a similar shipment to the Lynn Hospital for transfusions for the injured.

The Boston & Maine Railroad said the streamlined Budd high-liner train, which left Salem at 10:30 A. M., moved Elmo Purdom.

Mrs. Muriel J. Hays, city, was seated to replace Purdom.

The defense then excused Wilbur Rapp, with its first peremptory challenge, and Donald L. Lange, of near Bloomingburg, Sinclair Co. employe, was the next venireman called. Lange said he had expressed an opinion but could lay it aside and render a fair and impartial verdict. He was seated to replace Rapp.

After Lange was seated, the State's attorneys asked for a short recess for a conference, and 10 minutes was allowed, the jury being excused.

UPON RECONVENING, the State used its second challenge and removed Mrs. Hays, who had been seated only a short time before.

Orville Oty, number 16 in the list of veniremen, who lives seven miles northwest of Washington was seated in the place of Mrs. Hays.

The defense then used its second peremptory challenge in removing Adm. Gableman.

Mrs. Hazel Hicks, Miami Trace Road, stated she had formed an opinion which could not be changed and upon challenge by the defense, she was excused from duty.

Frank Coe, a farmer, was the eighth venireman examined. He was seated, after which court was adjourned for a short recess at 10:30 A. M.

Just before court adjourned at 4 P. M. Monday, the twelfth juror (Please Turn to Page Eight)

8:02 a. m. was due in Boston at 8:33 a. m. The Budd train struck the rear of the diesel, the B&M said, which had left Portsmouth, N. H., at 6:40 a. m. and was due in Boston at 8:14.

THE COLLISION occurred at Swampscott Junction as both trains were headed southwest. Swampscott is about six miles from Boston.

Howard Ross of West Newbury

was a passenger in one of the trains. He was thrown from his seat by the crash.

"There was nothing left of the first car of the Danvers train except the platform," he said.

A piece of the metal body of the Danvers train flew past the last car of his train, Ross reported. Ross said only one of the passengers in his car, a woman, seemed to be injured.

2 Canadians Linked To Ohio Bank Holdups

DAYTON (AP)—Two Canadians, who already have pleaded guilty to several Ohio bank robberies, were charged here yesterday with the $80,119 holdup of the Farmers and Exchange Bank at Trotwood Sept. 23, 1954.

Charged with the robbery were John Machibroda, 25, and Donald Eric Hammill, 26, Machibroda, arrested Dec. 3, 1955, at Hamilton, Ont., is in jail in Lucas County. Hammill, arrested Dec. 8, 1955, at Brantford, Ont., is held at Cleveland.

Charges against the two men were filed yesterday with U.S. Commissioner Charles W. Ozias. Assistant U. S. District Attorney James Rambo recommended bonds of $50,000 each.

In Cincinnati, James H. Gale, special agent in charge of the FBI, said Machibroda already has pleaded guilty to charges of participating in the robbery of the Waterville State Savings Bank on April 30, 1955, the First National Bank in Forest on Nov. 22, 1955 and the Exchange Bank Co., of Canal Fulton on May 7, 1954.

He said Hammill had pleaded guilty in Cleveland in the Forest and Canal Fulton robberies.

The men have not yet been sentenced and Gale said he did not know what disposition would be made of those cases and the one involving the Trotwood Bank.

He declined to disclose how the men had been linked with the Trotwood robbery.

Film Actress Elsie Janis Dies At 66

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Death has taken Elsie Janis, who sang and danced her way into the hearts of New York, London, Hollywood, and the doughboys of World War I.

She succumbed Sunday night, as quietly as she had lived during the last decade, in her home here. She was 66.

Miss Janis spent nearly 50 years on the stage and in films. Her last few years were spent fighting illness.

For 20 years she was a top comedienne on Broadway and on the screen. In 1940 she made her last movie, "Women in the War," and retired.

But she remained the same effervescent Elsie, trim of figure and still able to do cartwheels, until her health failed.

Elsie, born Elsie Janis Bierbower in Columbus, Ohio, went on the stage at 8. She was a Broadway hit soon afterward as "Little Elsie," and at 11 she was a headliner in vaudeville.

During World War I she was the "Sweetheart of the A.E.F.," appearing in hazardous advanced areas to entertain troops.

Her service to soldiers was repeated in World War II.

Bitter Brew Found To Be Too Bitter

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Girls being initiated into the Aristonian Literary Society at Central High school here must sip a bitter fluid.

It's part of an old custom symbolizing the bitter and the sweet. Ten teen-age girls gulped their bitter potions during a ceremony and promptly became ill.

School officials said someone forgot to dilute the potassium solution they used.

One girl was hospitalized overnight, but all are recovering.

Dulles Optimism About Russia Rapped Anew

Montana Solon Says Diplomat's Views Fail To Agree With 'Facts'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today Secretary of State Dulles has raised new obstacles to approval of the administration's foreign aid program by "suggesting that Russia is losing the cold war."

"The facts are that Russia is on the march diplomatically, economically and militarily, in the air and guided missile field," Mansfield declared. "We ought to face the facts and act accordingly."

He said the American people won't shrink from paying a necessary bill for foreign aid "if they are told the truth about the Russian situation." But, he asked:

"How are senators and congressmen going to explain votes for billions in new foreign aid when the secretary of state tells the people the Russians have failed and have got to devise new policies?"

Democratic senators have been pounding away at Dulles since he told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last Friday that Soviet Russia, confronted by free world unity, has been forced to abandon a 30-year policy of violence and intolerance. The Democrats have contended the facts don't add up to this conclusion.

SEN. FULBRIGHT (D-Ark.) told the Senate yesterday that Dulles attempted to "deceive the American people about the deadly menace which confronts them."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said he was drafting a formal reply to be delivered in the Senate today or tomorrow.

Fulbright said the Russians have made new headway with Asiatic and other peoples by "parading" as their friend, "ready to help them raise their miserable standards of life, without requiring first that they enter into military alliances."

In contrast, he said, the United States has been made to appear as a nation that "can think of the fight for peace in no terms except that of military alliances and the shipment of arms." He asked:

"Will he (Dulles) by his candor rally the free world to a trust in American leadership; or, from an apparent craving for popular approval, will he endanger the mutual trust which supports the association of free peoples?"

In New York today, Adlai E. Stevenson said he hopes the Eisenhower administration "isn't as rattled and confused as it appears to be" in its foreign policy.

The Democratic presidential hopeful declared:

"Last Friday the secretary of state said that the new Russian economic and political challenge was a sign of weakness, which amazed the whole world."

"On Sunday he appears to have reversed himself and said it was a threat for which we needed more money."

"Last week we had the off-again, on-again incidents of tanks for Arabia."

"I would say that I pray our government isn't as rattled and confused as it appears to be."

The U. S. State Department, sensitive to congressional criticism, booted him out of the U. S.-owned Washington Hotel in Colon.

South Africa Bans All Colored Voting

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP)—South Africa's "white supremacy" government last night won its five-year battle to take the white man's vote from the only colored persons who had it.

By a vote of 174-68, 12 more than the required two-thirds majority, both houses of parliament amended the South African Constitution to remove 50,000 "Cape coloreds" (persons of mixed blood) from the voting roll.

No Compromise To Be Made By Ike On Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today ruled out any compromise in the farm bill, center of a close Senate battle over price support features.

Senate GOP Leader Knowland of California said after the weekly meeting of the President and Republican legislative leaders that Eisenhower "has not changed his position" against rigid price supports.

Knowland said there was no discussion at the White House of whether Eisenhower might veto the farm bill if it should reach him calling for abandonment of the administration's flexible price support system.

But he said "The President made it very clear that he has not changed his position."

Freak Accident Kills 4 Railroaders

A short time ago workmen who were excavating near Paint Creek where a considerable fill had been made south of West Court Street, and where they had been told the bed of Paint Creek existed many years ago, found a pronounced red deposit in the earth. (It probably was old paint.)

They decided that it was the material in the soil from which Paint Creek had obtained its name and I was immediately interested when notified of the find.

However, I assured them that it could not be any material in the soil which had resulted in coloring the water of Paint Creek and giving the creek the name it bears.

Paint Creek was so named, according to historical data, because of the water being colored in spots where the stream flows through the hill areas of Ross County, and encountered deposits of ochre, or hematite, which is one form of impure iron ore.

The reddish cast of the water, was due to hematite, and in other spots where the water was turned yellow, it was the limonite which caused the discoloration.

By reason of the color imparted by these minerals the pioneers decided that Paint Creek was a very proper name for the stream, so the history relates.

Incidentally the Indians used the same ochre for their war paints.

However, in that case many jurors were excused at once when they stated they did not believe in capital punishment, a thing not involved in the Baldrige case.

Second only to the speed with which the jury was seated, the big surprise was the few spectators who have been in the courtroom for the first two days of the trial.

After the jury returned from the scene of the shooting, the trial was to be resumed in the Court House with the opening statements of the State and defense to be made first. After that, the taking of testimony from the witnesses is to get underway.

The defense removed Ethel Wilson on peremptory challenge, and Charles M. Smith, nineteenth juror, was called, questioned, and seated.

There being no further challenges, the 12 jurors were formally sworn in at 11:15 A. M.

Then the work of obtaining the thirteenth juror was started, and Dorcas Holdren, residing near Good Hope, was the first one called. She said she had a definite opinion, but said she would try to overcome it. The defense challenged her for cause and she was dismissed.

Orville Clark, Waterloo, 21st venireman, came through the questioning without challenge, and was seated as the 13th juror. He was sworn in accordingly.

WHEN COURT opened Tuesday morning at 7:10 A. M., only four spectators were in the courtroom and by 10:30 A. M. there were only 15, leaving many vacant seats for spectators — the limit being 64.

Scarcity of spectators has been one of the unusual features of the Baldrige case, but with the taking of evidence the number is expected to increase.

As 12 jurors had been seated tentatively, the exercising peremptory challenges was started as soon as the preliminaries incident to the opening of court had been disposed of.

Each side had four peremptory challenges, or in other words, each side could remove, without question, four of the jurors tentatively seated, if so desired.

It was also stated by Judge John P. Case that each side has two peremptory challenges in seating the thirteenth juror.

The State was entitled to exercise the first challenge and re-

14 Are Killed in Train Crash; One Train Plows into Another

SWAMPSCOTT, Mass. (AP)—A four-car Boston and Maine commuter train ploughed into a second train, halted outside the station yard here today, with a heavy toll of dead and injured.

At least 14 were killed, and a police officer at the scene said the toll might reach 20. Scores were injured in the collision which came in a blinding snow storm.

The rear car of the halted train was splintered and turned over. The lead car of the four-car train of diesel-propelled Budd high-liners was torn open "like a watermelon," said one witness.

About a thousand passengers were reported on the two trains. Ambulances and doctors were summoned from as far away as Boston to carry the victims to hospitals.

A Portsmouth, N. H., to Boston seven-car stainless steel streamlined train plowed into the rear of a halted Danvers to Boston four-car train, with the rear car of the latter crumpling under the blow.

It was in that car that most of the dead were riding. The first car of the Portsmouth train was split open by the impact.

Heavy snow was falling as the commuter-laden trains crashed. Edward Pennington, a reporter for the Lynn Item, told of seeing 13 bodies.

In the first batch of 25 injured taken to the Lynn Hospital were many reported critically injured. The hospital summoned about 75 nurses.

Other victims were taken to Marblehead and Salem hospitals and Union Hospital, Lynn.

The Boston Red Cross blood center sent a shipment of 50 pints of blood to the Salem Hospital, and prepared to make a similar shipment to the Lynn Hospital for transfusions for the injured.

The Boston & Maine Railroad said the streamlined Budd high-liner train, which left Salem at moved Elmo Purdom.

Mrs. Muriel J. Hays, city, was seated to replace Purdom.

The defense then excused Wilbur Rapp, with its first peremptory challenge, and Donald L. Lange, of near Bloomingburg, Sinclair Co., employe, was the next venireman called. Lange said he had expressed an opinion but could lay it aside and render a fair and impartial verdict. He was seated to replace Rapp.

After Lange was seated, the State's attorneys asked for a short recess for a conference, and 10 minutes was allowed, the jury being excused.

UPON RECONVENING, the State used its second challenge and removed Mrs. Hays, who had been seated only a short time before.

Orville Oty, number 16 in the list of veniremen, who lives seven miles northwest of Washington was seated in the place of Mrs. Hays. The defense then used its second peremptory challenge in removing Admerl Gableman.

Mrs. Hazel Hicks, Miami Trace Road, stated she had formed an opinion which could not be changed and upon challenge by the defense, she was excused from duty.

Frank Coe, a farmer, was the eighth eighth venireman examined. He was seated, after which court was adjourned for a short recess at 10:30 A. M.

Just before court adjourned at 4 P. M. Monday, the twelfth jur-

8:02 a. m., was due in Boston at 8:33 a. m. The Budd train struck the rear of the diesel, the B&M said, which had left Portsmouth, N. H., at 6:40 a. m. and was due in Boston at 8:14.

THE COLLISION occurred at Swampscott Junction as both trains were headed southwest. Swampscott is about six miles from Boston.

Howard Ross of West Newbury

was a passenger in one of the trains. He was thrown from his seat by the crash.

"There was nothing left of the first car of the Danvers train except the platform," he said.

A piece of the metal body of the Danvers train flew past the last car of his train, Ross reported. Ross said only one of the passengers in his car, a woman, seemed to be injured.

Full Slate of Activities Set Up by Jaycees Here

The Jaycees here have a fistful of projects coming up.

Besides Boss's Night on March 15, the Junior Chamber of Commerce here made plans for or discussed here made plans for or discussed at their meeting Monday night.

Making rust-resistant auto license fasteners available to drivers this spring when it comes time to change license plates;

Continuing work on the comfort stations in the park on Milliken Avenue as soon as weather permits;

2 Canadians Linked To Ohio Bank Holdups

DAYTON (AP)—Two Canadians, who already have pleaded guilty to several Ohio bank robberies, were charged here yesterday with the $80,119 holdup of the Farmers and Exchange Bank at Trotwood, Sept. 23, 1954.

Charged with the robbery were John Machibroda, 25, and Donald Eric Hammill, 26. Machibroda, arrested Dec. 3, 1955, at Hamilton, Ont., is in jail in Lucas County. Hammill, arrested Dec. 8, 1955, at Brantford, Ont., is held at Cleveland.

Charges against the two men were filed yesterday with U.S. Commissioner Charles W. Ozias. Assistant U. S. District Attorney James Rambo recommended bonds of $50,000 each.

In Cincinnati, James H. Gale, special agent in charge of the FBI, said Machibroda already has pleaded guilty to charges of participating in the robbery of the Waterville State Savings Bank on April 30, 1955, the First National Bank in Forest on Nov. 22, 1955 and the Exchange Bank Co., of Canal Fulton on May 7, 1954.

He said Hammill had pleaded guilty in Cleveland in the Forest and Canal Fulton robberies.

The men have not yet been sentenced and Gale said he did not know what disposition would be made of those cases and the one involving the Trotwood Bank.

He declined to disclose how the men had been linked with the Trotwood robbery.

Dulles Optimism About Russia Rapped Anew

Montana Solon Says Diplomat's Views Fail To Agree With 'Facts'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont.) said today Secretary of State Dulles has raised new obstacles to approval of the administration's foreign aid program by "suggesting that Russia is losing the cold war."

"The facts are that Russia is on the march diplomatically, economically and militarily, in the air and guided missile field," Mansfield declared. "We ought to face the facts and act accordingly."

He said the American people won't shrink from paying a necessary bill for foreign aid "if they are told the truth about the Russian situation." But, he asked:

"How are senators and congressmen going to explain votes for billions in new foreign aid when the secretary of state tells the people the Russians have failed and have got to devise new policies?"

Democratic senators have been pounding away at Dulles since he told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last Friday that Soviet Russia, confronted by free world unity, has been forced to abandon a 30-year policy of violence and intolerance. The Democrats have contended the facts don't add up to this conclusion.

SEN. FULBRIGHT (D-Ark.) told the Senate yesterday that Dulles attempted to "deceive the American people about the deadly menace which confronts them."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said he was drafting a formal reply to be delivered in the Senate today or tomorrow.

Fulbright said the Russians have made new headway with Asiatic and other peoples by "parading" as their friend, "ready to help them raise their miserable standards of life, without requiring first that they enter into military alliances."

In contrast, he said, the United States has been made to appear as a nation that "can think of the fight for peace in no terms except that of military alliances and the shipment of arms." He asked:

"Will he (Dulles) by his candor rally the free world to a trust in American leadership; or, from an apparent craving for popular approval, will he endanger the mutual trust which supports the association of free peoples?"

In New York today, Adlai E. Stevenson said he hopes the Eisenhower administration "isn't as rattled and confused as it appears to be" in its foreign policy.

The Democratic presidential hopeful declared:

"Last Friday the secretary of state said that the new Russian economic and political challenge was a sign of weakness, which amazed the whole world."

"On Sunday he appears to have reversed himself and said it was a threat for which we needed more money."

"Last week we had the off-again, on-again incidents of tanks for Arabia."

"I would say that I pray our government isn't as rattled and confused as it appears to be."

Poor Peron-He Seeking A Home

PANAMA (AP)—Juan D. Peron, Argentina's fallen dictator who wants a home he can call his own, is in new temporary quarters just around the corner from the U. S. Embassy here.

The former president has a two bedroom apartment in the fashionable Bella Vista section. It rents for $110 a month.

The U. S. State Department, sensitive to congressional criticism, booted him out of the U. S.-owned Washington Hotel in Colon.

South Africa Bans All Colored Voting

CAPETOWN, South Africa (AP)—South Africa's "white supremacy" government last night won its five-year battle to take the white man's vote from the only colored persons who had it.

By a vote of 174-68, 12 more than the required two-thirds majority, both houses of parliament amended the South African Constitution to remove 50,000 "Cape coloreds" (persons of mixed blood) from the voting roll.

Bitter Brew Found To Be Too Bitter

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Girls being initiated into the Aristonian Literary Society at Central High school here must sip a bitter fluid.

It's part of an old custom symbolizing the bitter and the sweet. Ten teen-age girls gulped their bitter potions during a ceremony and promptly became ill.

School officials said someone forgot to dilute the potassium solution they used.

One girl was hospitalized overnight, but all are recovering.

Scout Leaders End Training

Final Instructions Set For Tuesday

The final session in a five-night series of training courses for Boy Scout and Cub Scout leaders was scheduled for 7:30 P. M. Tuesday night at the First Presbyterian Church on North Hinde Street.

With the training sessions regular broken into separate sections for the Cub and Boy Scout leaders, plans called for Cub leaders to split into two groups Tuesday night, one for den mothers and the other for Cubmasters and pack committeemen.

Den mothers were to work on the relationship between the den mother and the den leader. The den leader is a Boy Scout who serves as assistant leader to the den mother.

The men involved in Cub Scout work were to study pack administration, finances, advancement and finances.

THE BOY SCOUT leaders were scheduled to receive instructions on making arrangements for, equipping and carrying out hiking and camping programs.

Since this finishes up the course, those leaders who have attended all five sessions were to receive basic training certificates. Unit leaders who completed the series of courses were to receive a "commission".

Bob Poppen, Boy Scout executive here, explained that Cub and Scout masters are given a year in which to complete a basic training course.

Once the course is completed, they become registered permanently as Scout leaders. Completion of such a course is a requirement for leadership, Poppen said.

Appellate Court OKs Trago Verdict

GALLIPOLIS — The Fourth District Court of Appeals today upheld last year's conviction of Jackson County Sheriff David L. Trago on a morals charge involving a young airman.

Trago has served about half of his one-year jail sentence in Gallia County. Several months after his conviction, he was deposed as sheriff.

The appellate court held Trago received a fair trial, that his rights were safeguarded and the guilty verdict was sustained by law and the evidence.

by weaving in and out of barriers and even going through the trying process of parallel parking.

Bill Williams, head of the organization's youth activity committee, will make arrangements for a time and place and contact high school authorities for participants and requirements.

BOSS'S NIGHT and work on the park rest rooms were activities coming up soon.

Boss's Night is a national affair, when Junior Chamber members throughout the nation honor their employers in an informal social affair.

Robert Tice, chairman of the Boss's Night program committee, said at the meeting Monday that Omar (Jim) Schwartz, former J. C. president, will serve as toastmaster for the affair.

It will be his job to introduce Will Hellerman, head of the Ohio branch of the International Junior Chamber of Commerce. Hellerman is vice president in charge of public relations of Nationwide Insurance.

This will be Hellerman's second visit to Washington C. H.

Besides Tice, Jaycees on the program committee are John Sagar, Don Kaiser and Dr. William Lawry.

The committee has arranged to have a social hour at 6:30 P. M. to kick off Boss's Night. The socializing and dinner at about 7:30 will take place at the Country Club.

DAVID OGAN, chairman of the committee working on the Milliken Park comfort stations, reported that walls and roofs will be put on the buildings as soon as weather conditions allow the work to be started.

He explained that the weatherman dealt the Junior Chamber a low blow this fall by halting construction earlier than anticipated.

With donated materials, Ogan said, the group will have funds to finish at least the walls and roof.

THE DISTRICT meeting March 24, to be held at the Country Club, will bring Jaycee members from several surrounding counties tripping to Washington C. H. for an area meeting. The district includes Dayton, which has one of the largest — and most active — groups in Ohio.

Members and their wives (or best girls) will have dinner and a dance at that meeting. Another event scheduled for that evening is the "Speak Up, Jaycee" finals.

In the "Speak Up, Jaycee" contest, a national competition, members choose an item from the Jaycee creed as the topic for a five-minute talk. Local winners go on to area and national competition. Judges and participants have not been named as yet.

As in the past, the Jaycees will have available plated, rust-resistant auto tag fasteners at auto license time for those drivers who would like them. They will be free of charge but contributions toward the Jaycee will be accepted, according to Jaycee spokesman Hal Summers.

Dixie Senators Offered 'Bait'

Louisiana Solon Says Deal Seeks Farm Votes

legislation which would prevent further cuts in cotton acreage and an announcement expected soon that cotton prices will be supported around 87 per cent of parity in 1956.

Asked if this might win some Southern senators away from price supports fixed at 90 per cent, which they traditionally have backed, Ellender replied:

"I don't know. But if they make the bait attractive enough, some might be tempted."

He added, however, that "some senators don't like these side deals."

There was no immediate comment from Republican backers of the administration's system of flexible price supports, which on cotton and other basic crops may range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a legal standard said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

ELLENDER is chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and floor manager for the pending bill. It would couple a return to fixed 90 per cent price supports with the administration-backed soil bank plan. That contemplates payment of subsidies to farmers for taking land out of production of crops now in surplus.

No votes are in prospect until early next week.

Scout Leaders End Training

Final Instructions Set For Tuesday

The final session in a five-night series of training courses for Boy Scout and Cub Scout leaders was scheduled for 7:30 P. M. Tuesday night at the First Presbyterian Church on North Hinde Street.

With the training sessions regular broken into separate sections for the Cub and Boy Scout leaders, plans called for Cub leaders to split into two groups Tuesday night, one for den mothers and the other for Cubmasters and pack committees.

Den mothers were to work on the relationship between the den mother and the den leader. The den leader is a Boy Scout who serves as assistant leader to the den mother.

The men involved in Cub Scout work were to study pack administration, finances, advancement and participation.

Jaycee Schedule

by weaving in and out of barriers and even going through the trying process of parallel parking.

Bill Williams, head of the organization's youth activity committee, will make arrangements for a time and place and contact high school authorities for participants and requirements.

BOSS'S NIGHT and work on the park rest rooms were activities coming up soon.

Boss's Night is a national affair, when Junior Chamber members throughout the nation honor their employers in an informal social affair.

Robert Tice, chairman of the Boss's Night program committee, said at the meeting Monday that Omar (Jim) Schwartz, former J. C. president, will serve as toastmaster for the affair.

It will be his job to introduce Will Hellerman, head of the Ohio branch of the International Junior Chamber of Commerce. Hellerman is vice president in charge of public relations of Nationwide Insurance.

This will be Hellerman's second visit to Washington, C. H.

Besides Tice, Jaycees on the program committee are John Sagar, Don Kaiser and Dr. William Lawyer.

The committee has arranged to have a social hour at 6:30 P. M. to kick off Boss's Night. The socializing and dinner at about 7:30 will take place at the Country Club.

DAVID OGAN, chairman of the committee working on the Millikin Park comfort stations, reported that walls and roofs will be put on the buildings as soon as weather conditions allow the work to be started.

He explained that the weatherman dealt the Junior Chamber a low blow this fall by halting construction earlier than anticipated.

With donated materials, Ogan said, the group will have funds to finish at least the walls and roof.

THE DISTRICT meeting March 24, to be held at the Country Club, will bring Jaycee members from several surrounding counties tripping to Washington, C. H. for an area meeting. The district includes Dayton, which has one of the largest — and most active — groups in Ohio.

Members and their wives (or best girls) will have dinner and a dance at that meeting. Another event scheduled for that evening is the "Speak Up, Jaycee" finals.

In the "Speak Up, Jaycee" contest, a national competition, members choose an item from the Jaycee creed as the topic for a five-minute talk. Local winners go on to area and national competition.

Judges and participants have not been named as yet.

As in the past, the Jaycees will have available plated, rust-resistant auto tag fasteners at auto license time for those drivers who would like them. They will be free of charge but contributions toward the Jaycee will be accepted, according to Jaycee spokesman Hal Summers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ackley, 1010 Vine Street, are the parents of a seven pound, eleven ounce daughter, born in Memorial Hospital, Tuesday at 6:20 A. M.

Dixie Senators Offered 'Bait'

Louisiana Solon Says Deal Seeks Farm Votes

WASHINGTON (U) — Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today "the administration is holding out some bait" to try to win votes of cotton state senators in the close Senate battle over farm price supports.

The bait, he said, apparently will take two forms—support for legislation which would prevent further cuts in cotton acreage and an announcement expected soon that cotton prices will be supported around 87 per cent of parity in 1956.

Asked if this might win some Southern senators away from price supports fixed at 90 per cent, which they traditionally have backed, Ellender replied:

"I don't know. But if they make the bait attractive enough, some might be tempted."

He added, however, that "some senators don't like these side deals."

There was no immediate comment from Republican backers of the administration's system of flexible price supports, which on cotton and other basic crops may range between 75 and 90 per cent of parity. Parity is a legal standard said to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

ELLENDER IS chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee and floor manager for the pending bill. It would couple a return to fixed 90 per cent price supports with the administration-backed soil bank plan. That contemplates payment of subsidies to farmers for taking land out of production of crops now in surplus.

No votes are in prospect until early next week.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: For 14 years I've given my grandchild the care and training her mother might have given her, but didn't. Jane was about a year old when her father died and her mother (my daughter) didn't want to keep her.

Once when Jane was about five, her mother decided to give her another try. I let her go, much to my regret, and in three months she was sent back by plane in bad shape with asthma. Later she told me she'd been terrified that her grandpa and I wouldn't meet her at the airport, which made my heart ache.

Ever since then she has been subtly aloof towards us, whereas she used to be really affectionate. As a child she did well in school, forged ahead and was consuming, interested in books. She was in fact a little shy and preferred reading to playing with others. This aloofness has grown with the years.

Girl Not Rebellious

Jane was always difficult to train, but in the last two or three years she has become unreachably. She isn't deliberately disobedient; it's just that what I say doesn't seem to penetrate. She is gloomy and despondent, wears an absent look, doesn't seem to care for anybody, or about anything. She lacks a sense of responsibility; her chores are never done neatly; the fairly good grades she gets at school aren't a result of conscientious study. She does no homework, at least not at home.

Her grandfather and she are constantly at each other's throats. He decided long ago she would never be any good, but I am still hoping. He hasn't the easiest disposition, but if she would show him more respect, they would get along better, I think. At times she is terribly touchy, cross and nervous, and it is wearing me down.

Please shed light on the problem. Am I raising an incurable misanthrope? Or is there any hope I can get Jane interested in helping herself?

R. G.

DEAR R. G.: What you are disclosing, though too blind to see it, is that Jane has become progressively ill, emotionally ill, while under your supervision.

As I get the picture, the blow that really struck her down—from which she hasn't recovered since—was being sent off to her unstable mother at the age of 5, into circumstances of hit-or-miss care. And then being shipped back to you and her hostile grandpa, in a panic state of anxiety—as indicated by her asthmatic condition and her fear of being unclaimed at the airport.

By that time she was so demoralized, her self-regard so damaged, her expectations of others so distorted, by a series of rejection experiences (due to no fault of hers), that she simply stopped being outgoing. Back on your hands, she no longer dared hope for, ask for, or express affection. She simply withdrew into herself, in a mood of total defeat, where people are concerned. Indeed she probably shrank from such fond interest as was shown in her—construing it to be a mirage or hypocrisy, not to be pursued.

Doctor's Slant Cited

Last November 8, the U. S. News & World Report carried an exclusive interview with Dr. Winfred Overholser, former president of the American Psychiatric Association, on "What you should know about mental illness." Dr. Overholser discussed among other things the development of emotional illness in children. In part he says:

"The notable (symptom) to the observer is the withdrawal of the patient's attention. He crawls into his shell, as it were. When a child loses interest in the outside world, it is a pretty (serious) sign, and it certainly calls for psychiatric attention."

In the town through which you write there is a Mental Hygiene

Service, staffed to treat the psychiatric ills of adults and children in the surrounding country. My advice to you, and your browbeating husband, is to get emergency guidance from this center, in providing Jane the health-care she urgently needs.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

George Coffman recently returned from a two weeks visit in Florida. He told the other first graders in his class at Cherry Hill School about his experiences.

The trip was made by airplane—his first airplane trip. He told about the "take off," safety belts, engines, eating on the plane, the hostess, clouds, plane tickets, etc.

George saw tangerine trees, orange trees, palm trees, banana trees with the bananas growing upside down. He took a motor boat ride, went swimming in the Gulf of Mexico, and played in the sand. He attended a school for several days. He saw a harpsicord, and visited the Ringling Museum at Sarasota where he saw the largest circus wagon in the world.

George brought back a box of shells so that children can identify the ones he gave to each of them.

Two other children, Jane Roszmann and Bill Brent Payton, told about visiting the Ohio State Museum in Columbus on Washington's birthday. They saw a mummy, all kinds and sizes of dolls, stuffed animals, and bombs, cannons, soldiers' uniforms, etc.

Hearing Scheduled In Portsmouth Case

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (P)—Joseph Henderson was held without bond today for a hearing March 6 after he pleaded innocent to a first degree murder charge in the Feb. 18 slaying of McKinley Mitchell, 54.

Henderson, a 46-year-old American Legion Post custodian, entered the plea at his arraignment before Municipal Judge Lowell Thompson Monday.

Portsmouth detectives, who filed the charge against Henderson, said he had played cards with Mitchell and that the men argued just before the killing.

Mitchell, a Norfolk and Western Railroad employee, was found slain on the street outside Henderson's home. Mitchell was beaten brutally about the head.

Postal Vacation Setup Tightened

CINCINNATI (P)—Postmasters in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky have been sent circulars asking them to defer vacation periods until after June 30.

Herbert C. Rumble, director of the Cincinnati Postal Region which covers the three states, said it was a move to reduce the deficit as much as possible before the end of the fiscal year June 30.

He said the postal department faces a deficit of $441 million by that time.

Substitute employees often are needed to take the places of persons on vacation, Rumble said.

Ministers Plan 2 Observances

Farewell Luncheon For Rev. Swengel

Members of the Fayette County Ministerial Association went to the Washington Hotel Coffee Shop for a farewell luncheon with Rev. Clinton Swengel following Monday's regular monthly meeting at Grace Methodist Church.

Rev. Swengel, the pastor of Grace Church, is leaving here early next month for Fullerton, Calif., where he is to be the assistant pastor of the Methodist Church. Plans call for him to deliver his final sermon at Grace Church here on March 4 and his first in his new assignment the following Sunday.

Most of the association's meeting Monday was taken up with routine matters and talk incident to the leaving of Rev. Swengel.

Plans for the observance of Holy Week, March 26 through March 29, and Good Friday on March 30 were discussed at some length, however.

The association agreed that it would get out cards calling attention to the services and place them in windows of the stores.

THESE CARDS will remind all who see them that there will be a noontime services, from 12:10 to 12:40 P. M., at the First Baptist Church during the four days of Holy Week and that there will be the customary noon 3 P. M. services on Good Friday at Grace Church and that the stores and offices of the city will be closed from 12 until 2 P. M.

The Ministerial Association has added the motion picture film strip, "Resurrection of Jesus," to the films and slides kept at the Public Library for use by schools, youth groups, Sunday school classes, and similar organizations without charge.

These films and slides cover a wide range of subjects around the world. The one on the "Resurrection of Jesus" is considered particularly appropriate for the Easter season. There are three other Easter films and two sets of slides, Mrs. Florence Cook, the librarian, said.

Many organizations have their own projectors, but for those that do not they may be borrowed at the library.

Church Continues Revival Series

The Sugar Creek Baptist Church will wind up a series of Evangelistic services this week with a five-night group of sermons by Evangelist Emmons.

Scheduled for the Monday night sermon was "Who Will Be Left When Jesus Comes;" Tuesday night's sermon is titled "Antics of the Anti-Christ;" Wednesday Rev. Emmons will speak on "Earth's Golden Age."

The Thursday night sermon will be titled "Exposing the Devil." Sunday School Night is scheduled for Friday.

Crippled Children's Society Needs Money For Camp Plans

Mrs. Harmon Welty, president, and Mrs. O. L. Ohnstad, vice-president of the Fayette County Society for Crippled Children, which is seeking a $3,000 contribution for the organization through the medium of the coming Easter Seal sale starting March 10, today called attention to one important phase of the organization's work which has received but little notice.

This is the help that has been given here in sending crippled children, who are able to attend, to the special camps such as Camp Pittenger at McCutchenville,

Ohio. There were a number sent last year, also some to other special camps in recent years. The society here hopes that there will be sufficient money appropriated to expand this work this summer.

Several organizations in Washington C. H. last year contributed liberally for this special service. They were the Lioness Club, Mothers' Circle, the Monday and Wednesday Bowling League, the Community Club and the Grady Sorority.

Children are sent from here for two weeks sessions of these camps,

one group in July and another in August.

The children are well cared for at these camps and many receive special training.

THERE ARE, on the camp staff, two directors, a nurse, a swimming instructor, a dietitian, a cook, assistant cook, and kitchen help, besides an efficient staff of cabin counselors.

The camp program at Pittenger is recreational to include swimming and water sports, softball, hiking, nature study, crafts, deck tennis, story telling, camp fires, etc.—in fact, the same approved program as physically normal children enjoy, but adapted to the needs of the crippled child. With few exceptions, all types of crippled children are accepted at the camp except the mentally retarded.

ACTIVITIES AT camps for crippled children are just as numerous and popular as activities at any other camp. In playing games, adjustments are made in the rules for handicapped children who might otherwise be prohibited from playing.

As the crippled child is guided through a full program of arts and crafts, athletics, hiking, music, nature study, and camping out, he or she develops a multitude of social and physical benefits which contribute greatly to adjustment.

In addition to their understanding of the out-of-doors, these children develop a respect and a feeling of responsibility for fellow campers. The give and take of group living, the skill in handling tools, creating new hobbies, observing nature first hand, and exploring one's own capabilities are a vital part of this camping experience.

Damage Asked In Obstruction Of Drainage

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Rankin, in a suit filed in common pleas court Monday against Willard Armbrust, ask $5,000 damage and a restraining order to prevent him from maintaining any obstruction of further interfering with the natural drainage of a ditch on his premises.

Rankin represents himself and wife in the suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Rankin state that they own 18,129 square feet of land at 443 Highland Avenue and Armbrust owns several acres adjacent to their property.

They also stated that Armbrust's property has a modern home and that natural drainage from the property is through lands of Mr.

and Mrs. Rankin and has been for more than 21 years, where a natural water course and drainage ditch have existed.

Armbrust recently erected a roadway several feet in height across the natural drainage and also placed further obstruction in the drainage ditch, with result that on Feb. 25 a large amount of water was impounded and backed up, the Rankins claim.

It is further claimed that the obstruction caused water to flow over the Rankin property and into the basement of their home, causing damage to the amount of $5,000 for which they ask judgment.

The court also is asked to enjoin Armbrust from maintaining the obstruction and from interfering with the natural flow of the water course.

Girl Not Rebellious
Jane was always difficult to train, but in the last two or three years she has become unmanageable. She isn't deliberately disobedient; it's just that what I say doesn't seem to penetrate. She is gloomy and despondent, wears an absent look, doesn't seem to care for anybody, or about anything. She lacks a sense of responsibility; her chores are never done neatly; the fairly good grades she gets at school aren't a result of conscientious study. She does no homework, at least not at home.

Her grandfather and she are constantly at each other's throats. He decided long ago she would never be any good, but I am still hoping. He hasn't the easiest disposition, but if she would show him more respect, they would get along better, I think. At times she is terribly touchy, cross and nervous, and it is wearing me down.

Please shed light on the problem. Am I raising an incurable misanthrope? Or is there any hope I can get Jane interested in helping herself?

R. G.
DEAR R. G.: What you are disclosing, though too blind to see it, is that Jane has become progressively ill, emotionally ill, while under your supervision.

As I get the picture, the blow that really struck her down—from which she hasn't recovered since—was being sent off to her unstable mother at the age of 5, into circumstances of hit-or-miss care. And then being shipped back to you and her hostile grandpa, in a panic state of anxiety—as indicated by her asthmatic condition and her fear of being unclaimed at the airport.

By that time she was so demoralized, her self-regard so damaged, her expectations of others so distorted, by a series of rejection experiences (due to no fault of hers), that she simply stopped being outgoing. Back on your hands, she no longer dared hope for, ask for, or express affection. She simply withdrew into herself, in a mood of total defeat, where people are concerned. Indeed she probably shrank from such fond interest as was shown in her—construing it to be a mirage or hypocrisy, not to be pursued.

Doctor's Slant Cited
Last November 8, the U. S. News & World Report carried an exclusive interview with Dr. Winfred Overholser, former president of the American Psychiatric Association, on "What you should know about mental illness." Dr. Overholser discussed among other things the development of emotional illness in children. In part he says:

"The notable (symptom) to the observer is the withdrawal of the patient's attention. He crawls into his shell, as it were. When a child loses interest in the outside world, it is a pretty (serious) sign, and it certainly calls for psychiatric attention."

In the town through which you write there is a Mental Hygiene

Service, staffed to treat the psychiatric ills of adults and children in the surrounding country. My advice to you, and your browbeating husband, is to get emergency guidance from this center, in providing Jane the health-care she urgently needs.

Your School Report Card

By W. A. SMITH
(City School Superintendent)

George Coffman recently returned from a two weeks visit in Florida. He told the other first graders in his class at Cherry Hill School about his experiences.

The trip was made by airplane—his first airplane trip. He told about the "take off," safety belts, engines, eating on the plane, the hostess, clouds, plane tickets, etc.

George saw tangerine trees, orange trees, palm trees, banana trees with the bananas growing upside down. He took a motor boat ride, went swimming in the Gulf of Mexico, and played in the sand. He attended a school for several days. He saw a harpsicord, and visited the Ringling Museum at Sarasota where he saw the largest circus wagon in the world.

George brought back a box of shells so that children can identify the ones he gave to each of them.

Two other children, Jane Roszmann and Bill Brent Payton, told about visiting the Ohio State Museum in Columbus on Washington's birthday. They saw a mummy, all kinds and sizes of dolls, stuffed animals, and bombs, cannons, soldiers' uniforms, etc.

Hearing Scheduled In Portsmouth Case

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—Joseph Henderson was held without bond today for a hearing March 6 after he pleaded innocent to a first degree murder charge in the Feb. 18 slaying of McKinley Mitchell, 54.

Henderson, a 46-year-old American Legion Post custodian, entered the plea at his arraignment before Municipal Judge Lowell Thompson Monday.

Portsmouth detectives, who filed the charge against Henderson, said he had played cards with Mitchell and that the men argued just before the killing.

Mitchell, a Norfolk and Western Railroad employe, was found slain on the street outside Henderson's home. Mitchell was beaten brutally about the head.

Postal Vacation Setup Tightened

CINCINNATI (AP)—Postmasters in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky have been sent circulars asking them to defer vacation periods until after June 30.

Herbert C. Rumble, director of the Cincinnati Postal Region which covers the three states, said it was a move to reduce the deficit as much as possible before the end of the fiscal year June 30.

He said the postal department faces a deficit of $441 million by that time.

Substitute employes often are needed to take the places of persons on vacation, Rumble said.

Ministers Plan 2 Observances

Farewell Luncheon For Rev. Swengel

Members of the Fayette County Ministerial Association went to the Washington Hotel Coffee Shop for a farewell luncheon with Rev. Clinton Swengel following Monday's regular monthly meeting at Grace Methodist Church.

Rev. Swengel, the pastor of Grace Church, is leaving here early next month for Fullerton, Calif., where he is to be the assistant pastor of the Methodist Church. Plans call for him to deliver his final sermon at Grace Church here on March 4 and his first in his new assignment the following Sunday.

Most of the association's meeting Monday was taken up with routine matters and talk incident to the leaving of Rev. Swengel.

Plans for the observance of Holy Week, March 26 through March 29, and Good Friday on March 30 were discussed at some length, however. The association agreed that it would get out cards calling attention to the services and place them in windows of the stores.

THESE CARDS will remind all who see them that there will be a noontime services, from 12:10 to 12:40 P. M., at the First Baptist Church during the four days of Holy Week and that there will be the customary noon until 3 P. M. services on Good Friday at Grace Church and that the stores and offices of the city will be closed from 12 until 2 P. M.

The Ministerial Association has added the motion picture film strip, "Resurrection of Jesus," to the films and slides kept at the Public Library for use by schools, youth groups, Sunday school classes, and similar organizations without charge.

These films and slides cover a wide range of subjects around the world. The one on the "Resurrection of Jesus" is considered particularly appropriate for the Easter season. There are three other Easter films and two sets of slides, Mrs. Florence Cook, the librarian, said.

Many organizations have their own projectors, but for those that do not they may be borrowed at the library.

Church Continues Revival Series

The Sugar Creek Baptist Church will wind up a series of Evangelistic services this week with a five-night group of sermons by Evangelist Emmons.

Scheduled for the Monday night sermon was "Who Will Be Left When Jesus Comes;" Tuesday night's sermon is titled "Antics of the Anti-Christ;" Wednesday Rev. Emmons will speak on "Earth's Golden Age."

The Thursday night sermon will be titled "Exposing the Devil." Sunday School Night is scheduled for Friday.

Crippled Children's Society Needs Money For Camp Plans

Mrs. Harmon Welty, president, and Mrs. O. L. Ohnstad, vice-president of the Fayette County Society for Crippled Children, which is seeking a $3,000 contribution for the organization through the medium of the coming Easter Seal sale starting March 10, today called attention to one important phase of the organization's work which has received but little notice.

This is the help that has been given here in sending crippled children, who are able to attend, to the special camps such as Camp Pittenger at McCutchenville, Ohio. There were a number sent last year, also some to other special camps in recent years. The society here hopes that there will be sufficient money appropriated to expand this work this summer.

Several organizations in Washington C. H. last year contributed liberally for this special service. They were the Lioness Club, Mothers' Circle, the Monday and Wednesday Bowling League, the Community Club and the Gradydale Sorority.

Children are sent from here for two weeks sessions of these camps.

one group in July and another in August.

The children are well cared for at these camps and many receive special training.

THERE ARE, on the camp staff, two directors, a nurse, a swimming instructor, a dietitian, a cook, assistant cook, and kitchen help, besides an efficient staff of cabin counselors.

The camp program at Pittenger is recreational to include swimming and water sports, softball, hiking, nature study, crafts, deck tennis, story telling, camp fires, etc.—in fact, the same approved program as physically normal children enjoy, but adapted to the needs of the crippled child. With few exceptions, all types of crippled children are accepted at the camp except the mentally retarded.

ACTIVITIES AT camps for crippled children are just as numerous and popular as activities at any other camp. In playing games, adjustments are made in the rules for handicapped children who might otherwise be prohibited from playing.

As the crippled child is guided through a full program of arts and crafts, athletics, hiking, music, nature study, and camping out, he or she develops a multitude of social and physical benefits which contribute greatly to adjustment.

In addition to their understanding of the out-of-doors, these children develop a respect and a feeling of responsibility for fellow campers. The give and take of group living, the skill in handling tools, creating new hobbies, observing nature first hand, and exploring one's own capabilities are a vital part of this camping experience.

Damage Asked In Obstruction Of Drainage

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Rankin, in a suit filed in common pleas court Monday against Willard Armbrust, ask $5,000 damage and a restraining order to prevent him from maintaining any obstruction of further interfering with the natural drainage of a ditch on his premises.

Rankin represents himself and wife in the suit.

Mr. and Mrs. Rankin state that they own 18,129 square feet of land at 443 Highland Avenue and Armbrust owns several acres adjacent to their property.

They also stated that Armbrust's property has a modern home and that natural drainage from the property is through lands of Mr.

and Mrs. Rankin and has been for more than 21 years, where a natural water course and drainage ditch have existed.

Armbrust recently erected a roadway several feet in height across the natural drainage and also placed further obstruction in the drainage ditch, with result that on Feb. 25 a large amount of water was impounded and backed up, the Rankins claim.

It is further claimed that the obstruction caused water to flow over the Rankin property and into the basement of their home, causing damage to the amount of $5,000 for which they ask judgment.

The court also is asked to enjoin Armbrust from maintaining the obstruction and from interfering with the natural flow of the water course.

Although the first eyeglasses often were regarded as products of the devil, at a later time, artists often pictured the apostles as wearing spectacles.

Why A Heart Fund? Explanation Given

The campaign is still on in Fayette County to raise finances for the heart fund.

Today there is hope for hearts. Even if you aren't an expert in medical affairs, you probably know that not all "heart attacks" are fatal, that most victims, in fact, survive and return to active lives. You also probably know that some heart diseases can be prevented, and that almost all cases can be helped by early diagnosis and treatment.

As laymen we accept these facts today because we are no longer blinded by the misconceptions about the heart diseases that have come down to us through the years. Much has been learned the past few years. The misconceptions are recognized as fables now because responsible organizations like the Central Ohio Heart Association have taught us.

Broad education is only part of what our Heart Association has accomplished in its few years of operation. First priority in its program is research into which the Association has channeled more than $13,000,000 since 1948. Some of that research has led to remarkable life-saving advances in heart surgery. From the same source has come science's new knowledge about "strep"-killing drugs that help to prevent rheumatic fever, a heart-crippling disease. Still other benefits of research are the development and perfection of diagnostic tools to detect trouble sooner.

Research however has not yet found all the answers it needs in the cardiac field. What causes hardening of the arteries? High blood pressure? and Rheumatic fever? We don't know. But once we have found the causes experience has shown we are well on our way to establishing controls, possibly even discover cures.

This is the time of year that the public is asked to help and give to the Heart Fund to maintain the local and national programs of the association. What is accomplished during the next twelve months depends directly upon your contributions to the fund. So the question you must decide is—Just what is your heart worth to you?

Man's Perfect Age Said 45

NEW YORK (AP)—I used to worry that when I became 45 years old teen-agers would stop me in the street with the request:

"Old man, say something I needn't have worried. When you're 45, the average teen-ager doesn't seek you out for your wisdom, perhaps because he figures anything you know is already out of date. On the other hand, he doesn't bother to laugh at you either. The truth is he doesn't know whether you're alive."

However, somewhat to my surprise, I felt very much alive the other morning when I awoke to find I had reached my 43rd milestone.

Unlike on my 40th birthday, a time of true horror, I felt no urge to draw up a new will, or lie covering in bed, afraid that if I got up I might fall apart by nightfall.

As I shaved myself before the bathroom mirror on my 40th birthday, my hand shook to see the ravages time had wrought. But on my 43rd birthday I performed this chore humming, cheered by the fact so much of the old ruin still remained.

Though much had been taken, much a bided — particularly around the stomach. Though I might not be able to throw a football 50 yards, I sure threw an important-looking silhouette.

There was one big disappointment in the day, however. In earlier years I started the custom of kissing all the girls in the office on my birthday.

On my 43rd birthday I got only one kiss. Only one girl showed up, a new girl. All the old girls stayed home from work.

At 40 a dark tunnel of terror descends on many men. They see the brightness of youth departing and before them only the black nightmare of age.

But by 45 a man can see light at the other end of the tunnel. He makes his compromise with time. He no longer is panic-stricken at the thought of being middle-aged. He finds life holds a new freshness in his Indian summer prime.

It is a good thing for man at five-year intervals to discard the things he no longer needs or has outgrown. At the age of five I quit tiddlywinks, at 10 skipping rope, at 15 marbles. At 20 I made a great resolve and gave up women forever, but recanted—the next day.

At 25 I gave up high diving, at 30 baseball. At 35 I started giving up (reluctantly) my hair.

At 40 I darn near gave up hope, but now I do believe I have it back again. There are a lot of things at 45. I perhaps ought to give up, but I finally decided it would be table tennis. Whoever really learned anything lastingly important while batting a ping-pong ball around? Gin rummy is far more educating, and is played in a more civilized posture.

The old friends he has remaining he holds doubly dear. The realization that every year there are fewer people in the world who would actually lend him money makes him treasure those still left.

He finds that women have improved tremendously. At 19, he remembers, all the girls he met seemed vain and silly. But now the ones he meets seem charming, witty and full of common-sense information on interesting topics such as how to cure arthritis and what to do about varicose veins. The fact the only girls he meets are grandmothers has nothing to do with it.

Best of all, at 45, a man finds his wife appreciates him more than in the days when he was a young romantic lover.

"Here, you big oaf, I'll move that sofa," she murmurs tenderly. "You might strain your heart. I don't want to have to break in another husband in my lifetime."

She brings him his slippers and a hot toddy, and the big oaf, sitting comfortably reading his newspaper and lulled by the dim slow music of his hardening arteries, wonders idly why a man would ever want to be any age but 45.

Preparations for the Inevitable

When one lies on a hospital bed wondering whether you might not die overnight, it suddenly comes to him that he has made no preparations for this one inevitable act in all his life.

Of course, the prudent man has left some insurance for his family and maybe something of an estate, but even that lacks reality at such a moment. People somehow manage to live and the lady who played great at the Colony or the Stork can sell hats and dresses as well as the next one. There is no satisfaction in being a rich widow; there must be a richer memory than dollars.

And the question does bother the fellow who is waiting for the verdict, whether he has prepared his family to live without him by moral strength, determination to achieve. These little thoughts are bothersome for a while, just as the very material thought that comes along to make a restless night — does the wife know how to handle money? Does she know enough about my affairs to know what I owe and what will be coming to her?

The rich have lawyers and accountants for such things but the rest of us are just plain people too sure of ourselves and then what everybody else believes can only happen to the other fellow happens to us, the arrangements have generally not been made.

And that brings back to the family system which, to be complete, consists of a father, a mother and children all united by love and by God's sacrament. In such a family, there can be no secrets between husband and wife because secret is unnecessary and unpleasant and lead to suspicion and deceit. I have never been able to understand a marriage in which the husband and wife are really strangers to each other and remain strangers although they have children. They know nothing about each other really, except that they are often in each other's company. And sometimes when such a husband dies, the wife does not know where to get the money to bury him. She has never been privy to his affairs, receiving a weekly allowance as though she were an employee and never really knowing whether he could or could not afford her expenditures. I find that such a relationship is more usual than one would expect.

There is another side to the preparation for departure from this particular life and that is that one does wonder whether religion is a myth and a fraud or whether there is a God and what has one done with his life. Prayer is a rich experience, but the person unaccustomed to prayer must have a hard time because he does not know what to say. The question of guilt must arise and it certainly plagued me for a few nights. It is always at night that the subconscious comes up with the forgotten errors.

I would have hated, during these weeks, to have had to bear the guilt of a broken home, with children driven hither and yon by uncertainty and fear of life itself. I do not think that the little sensual thrills of complex marriages would be at all helpful in the dark ruminations over personal guilt, which no sedation can kill.

Guilt is not driven away by disbelief, not when death is around the corner and the doctor's face speaks more clearly and finally than his words. It is then that one asks himself: "What have I done with this life that God has given me?" "And there must be an answer because the subconscious will not be quiet. How happy is the person who at such a moment turns his face to the Creator and fears not His judgment! That does not mean that he is without fault. It does mean that he is without fear.

No man who has been close to death—consciously close to death—can ever face life as before. That is really the significance of Eisenhower's coronation as it is of anybody's. He faces a new life as though he were reborn. Wife, children, friends, activities—all take on new relationships because their meaning in the whole picture of living is different.

For this is certain. The person who has come back to life is not a self-made man, no matter what he was before. He did not bring himself back. Nor are the doctors entirely responsible for restoring him because he knows, what they know, that, in certain circumstances, there would have been no way back. The stroke would have been final and complete. It comes to him as he lies alone and no longer afraid that God's mercy has been upon him and that he owes more than he can repay. And that starts a chain of thinking that one cannot ignore if one is at all sensitive to the forces in his own life.

Panting Fireman Told Of Error

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Mrs. George M. Fly's letters weren't addressed to the fire department, but they brought two hook and ladder trucks and a water tower in a hurry.

Mrs. Fly, of Nashville, Tenn., a guest in a hotel, told the panting firemen she asked a maid the location of the mail chute.

"Next to the red alarm box," the maid replied.

Mrs. Fly inadvertently punched the fire alarm.

Bursitis Is Cured By Heat And Rest

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
You "do it yourself" fans had better take it easy.

While you might save on a carpentry or painting bill, too much effort or unconditioned muscles can lead to a painful bout with bursitis.

The bursas are your body's bearings and are scattered throughout different layers of tendons and muscles. They are collapsed balloon-like affairs with slick inner surfaces and generally are present wherever one muscle rubs another or touches a sharp edge of a bone.

Irritated Bursa

When a bursa becomes irritated, the well-lubricated inner surfaces become harsh and rough, producing a painful grating with every movement.

By slowly exercising the muscles you plan to use, such as your arm and wrist muscles, for some time before you actually begin your chores, you may prevent a siege of bursitis.

Once you're hit, there are numerous things you and your doctor can do to ease the pain and get the bursa back in working order.

Mild Cases

Light X-ray treatment will do a good job in most instances. Many mild cases are aided by infrared or heat lamps. Very short-waved diathermy machines are also a great aid and some doctors report success with ultra-short sound wave machines.

Many doctors, however, still prefer contrast baths for curing bursitis. In these baths, you soak the affected area for four minutes in hot water, then one minute in hot water for another four minutes.

You can do this several times just as long as you start and end with the hot water.

Bed Rest Is Helpful

Bed rest and certain drugs also play an important part in treating bursitis. Since movement of the affected bursa naturally produces pain, the best thing to do is to keep it still.

Aspirin has always been helpful; it still is. And some doctors recommend butazolidine, a new drug used in treating gout.

Cortisone and ACTH are reported useful in controlling bursitis in the vast majority of cases until they heal by themselves.

Answer: It is not likely that the infection can be spread by objects in the room. Therefore, disinfecting the room would not be of help.

Reider Rips Into Lausche In Campaign

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Robert W. Reider, Port Clinton publisher, has four opponents in his race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination but he fired his big barrage at Gov. Frank J. Lausche last night.

Lausche passed up the governor's race to become the Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator.

Reider called Lausche a "great danger to our state and country" in his campaign kickoff speech before the Sandusky Industrial Union Council.

"What Lausche did—for selfish reasons—was to destroy the two-party system in Ohio," the long-time Lausche foe declared.

He contends the Democratic party of Lausche's hue is not different from the Republican party. "Labor cannot afford a one-party, one political viewpoint; even if it is disguised by party labels, (it) leads to economic legislation favoring the supports of that party," he said.

If Atty. Gen. William O'Neill, a Republican is elected governor and the General Assembly remains Republican, Reider said "big business" would attempt to put across a "right to work" bill and would attempt to revive legislation which would shut off labor unions from any political activity.

"With the Democrats paralyzed by Lausche, the Republicans anticipate taking over the state by default," he said.

Why A Heart Fund? Explanation Given

The campaign is still on in Fayette County to raise finances for the heart fund.

Today there is hope for hearts. Even if you aren't an expert in medical affairs, you probably know that not all "heart attacks" are fatal, that most victims, in fact, survive and return to active lives. You also probably know that some heart diseases can be prevented, and that almost all cases can be helped by early diagnosis and treatment.

As laymen we accept these facts today because we are no longer blinded by the misconceptions about the heart diseases that have come down to us through the years. Much has been learned the past few years. The misconceptions are recognized as fables now because responsible organizations like the Central Ohio Heart Association have taught us.

Broad education is only part of what our Heart Association has accomplished in its few years of operation. First priority in its program is research into which the Association has channeled more than $13,000,000 since 1948. Some of that research has led to remarkable life-saving advances in heart surgery. From the same source has come science's new knowledge about "strep"-killing drugs that help to prevent rheumatic fever, a heart-crippling disease. Still other benefits of research are the development and perfection of diagnostic tools to detect trouble sooner.

Research however has not yet found all the answers it needs in the cardiac field. What causes hardening of the arteries? High blood pressure? and Rheumatic fever? We don't know. But once we have found the causes experience has shown we are well on our way to establishing controls, possibly even discover cures.

This is the time of year that the public is asked to help and give to the Heart Fund to maintain the local and national programs of the association. What is accomplished during the next twelve months depends directly upon your contributions to the fund. So the question you must decide is—Just what is your heart worth to you?

Man's Perfect Age Said 45

NEW YORK (AP)—I used to worry that when I became 45 years old teen-agers would stop me in the street with the request:

"Old man, say something I needn't have worried. When you're 45, the average teen-ager doesn't seek you out for your wisdom, perhaps because he figures anything you know is already out of date. On the other hand, he doesn't bother to laugh at you either. The truth is he doesn't know whether you're alive."

However, somewhat to my surprise, I felt very much alive the other morning when I awoke to find I had reached my 45th milestone.

Unlike on my 40th birthday, a time of true horror, I felt no urge to draw up a new will, or lie cowering in bed, afraid that if I got up I might fall apart by nightfall.

As I shaved myself before the bathroom mirror on my 40th birthday, my hand shook to see the ravages time had wrought. But on my 45th birthday I performed this chore humming, cheered by the fact so much of the old ruin still remained.

Though much had been taken, much a bided — particularly around the stomach. Though I might not be able to throw a football 50 yards, I sure threw an important-looking silhouette.

There was one big disappointment in the day, however. In earlier years I started the custom of kissing all the girls in the office on my birthday.

On my 45th birthday I got only one kiss. Only one girl showed up, a new girl. All the old girls stayed home from work.

At 40 a dark tunnel of terror descends on many men. They see the brightness of youth departing and before them only the black nightmare of age.

But by 45 a man can see light at the other end of the tunnel. He makes his compromise with time. He no longer is panic-stricken at the thought of being middle-aged. He finds life holds a new freshness in his Indian summer prime.

It is a good thing for man at five-year intervals to discard the things he no longer needs or has outgrown. At the age of five I quit tiddlywinks, at 10 skipping rope, at 15 marbles. At 20 I made a great resolve and gave up women forever, but recanted—the next day.

At 25 I gave up high diving, at 30 baseball. At 35 I started giving up (reluctantly) my hair.

At 40 I darn near gave up hope, but now I do believe I have it back again. There are a lot of things at 45. I perhaps ought to give up, but I finally decided it would be table tennis. Whoever really learned any-

Preparations for the Inevitable

When one lies on a hospital bed wondering whether you might not die overnight, it suddenly comes to him that he has made no preparations for this one inevitable act in all his life.

Of course, the prudent man has left some insurance for his family and maybe something of an estate, but even that lacks reality at such a moment. People somehow manage to live and the lady who played great at the Colony or the Stork can sell hats and dresses as well as the next one. There is no satisfaction in being a rich widow; there must be a richer memory than dollars.

And the question does bother the fellow who is waiting for the verdict, whether he has prepared his family to live without him by moral strength, determination to achieve. These little thoughts are bothersome for a while, just as the very material thought that comes along to make a restless night — does the wife know how to handle money? Does she know enough about my affairs to know what I owe and what will be coming to her?

The rich have lawyers and accountants for such things but the rest of us are just plain people too sure of ourselves and then what everybody else believes can only happen to the other fellow happens to us, the arrangements have generally not been made.

And that brings back to the family system which, to be complete, consists of a father, a mother and children all united by love, and by God's sacrament. In such a family, there can be no secrets between husband and wife because secrets are unnecessary and unpleasant and lead to suspicion and deceit. I have never been able to understand a marriage in which the husband and wife are really strangers to each other and remain strangers although they have children. They know nothing about each other really, except that they are often in each other's company. And sometimes when such a husband dies, the wife does not know where to get the money to bury him. She has never been privy to his affairs, receiving a weekly allowance as though she were an employee and never really knowing whether he could or could not afford her expenditures. I find that such a relationship is more usual than one would expect.

There is another side to the preparation for departure from this particular life and that is that one does wonder whether religion is a myth and a fraud or whether there is a God and what has one done with his life. Prayer is a rich experience, but the person unaccustomed to prayer must have a hard time because he does not know what to say. The question of guilt must arise and it certainly plagued me for a few nights. It is always at night that the subconscious comes up with the forgotten errors.

I would have hated, during these weeks, to have had to bear the guilt of a broken home, with children driven hither and yon by uncertainty and fear of life itself. I do not think that the little sensual thrills of complex marriages would be at all helpful in the dark ruminations over personal guilt, which no sedation can kill.

Guilt is not driven away by disbelief, not when death is around the corner and the doctor's face speaks more clearly and finally than his words. It is then that one asks himself: "What have I done with this life that God has given me?" "And there must be an answer because the subconscious will not be quiet. How happy is the person who at such a moment turns his face to the Creator and fears not His judgment! That does not mean that he is without faults. It does mean that he is without fear.

No man who has been close to death—consciously close to death—can ever face life as before. That is really the significance of Eisenhower's coronation as it is of anybody's. He faces a new life as though he were reborn. Wife, children, friends, activities—all take on new relationships because their meaning in the whole picture of living is different.

For this is certain. The person who has come back to life is not a self-made man, no matter what he was before. He did not bring himself back. Nor are the doctors entirely responsible for restoring him because he knows, what they know that, in certain circumstances, there would have been no way back. The stroke would have been final and complete. It comes to him as he

Diet and Health Bursitis Is Cured By Heat And Rest

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

You "do it yourself" fans had better take it easy.

While you might save on a carpentry or painting bill, too much effort or unconditioned muscles can lead to a painful bout with bursitis.

The bursas are your body's bearings and are scattered throughout different layers of tendons and muscles. They are collapsed balloon-like affairs with slick inner surfaces and generally are present wherever one muscle rubs another or touches a sharp edge of a bone.

Irritated Bursa

When a bursa becomes irritated, the well-lubricated inner surfaces become harsh and rough, producing a painful grating with every movement.

By slowly exercising the muscles you plan to use, such as your arm and wrist muscles, for some time before you actually begin your chores, you may prevent a siege of bursitis.

Once you're hit, there are numerous things you and your doctor can do to ease the pain and get the bursa back in working order.

Mild Cases

Light X-ray treatment will do a good job in most instances. Many mild cases are aided by infrared or heat lamps. Very

Reider Rips Into Lausche In Campaign

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Robert W. Reider, Port Clinton publisher, has four opponents in his race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination but he fired his big barrage at Gov. Frank J. Lausche last night.

Lausche passed up the governor's race to become the Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator.

Reider called Lausche a "great danger to our state and country" in his campaign kickoff speech before the Sandusky Industrial Union Council.

"What Lausche did—for selfish reasons—was to destroy the two-party system in Ohio," the long-time Lausche foe declared.

He contends the Democratic party of Lausche's hue is not different from the Republican party.

"Labor cannot afford a one-party, one political viewpoint; even if it is disguised by party labels, (it) leads to economic legislation favoring the supports of that party," he said.

If Atty. Gen. William O'Neill, a Republican is elected governor and the General Assembly remains Republican, Reider said "big business" would attempt to put across a "right to work" bill and would attempt to revive legislation which would shut off labor unions from any political activity.

"With the Democrats paralyzed by Lausche, the Republicans anticipate taking over the state by default," he said.

U. S. farm mortgage debt at a total of $8,200,000,000 has doubled since 1945 while mortgage debts on homes in towns and cities has increased 4½ times.

O'Neill Endorsed

COLUMBUS (AP)—Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill was endorsed for governor and Columbus Atty. Paul M. Herbert for lieutenant governor at a meeting of the Franklin County Republican Central Committee last night.

Information For Primary Election May 8

Blank Spaces Are Provided To Write-In Candidate Names

At the two primary elections held on the 8th day of May the electors of the state will choose a single candidate for each office to be elected at the general election, says an information statement issued today by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown.

The party primary is the way in which each party determines who shall be its candidates. Nominees will be chosen for the office of Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Auditor, Treasurer, Attorney General, United States Senator, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and two Judges of the Supreme Court and county and district offices to be elected this year.

Although both the Democrats and Republicans have their primary election on the same day, in the same polling place, and conducted by the same precinct officials, they are separate and distinct elections.

There will be blank spaces provided on these primary ballots for electors to write in the name of a candidate if they do not choose to cast their vote for the primary candidate who has filed petitions for that office. Since the offices of delegate and alternate to the party national conventions and state central committeeman and woman and county central committeeman are elected, as distinguished from nominated at the primary election, there will be no blank space following these offices for a write-in candidate.

The law requires that where there is no name printed on the ballot, for an office for which a write-in is permitted, or where a person whose name is printed on the ballot is deceased, the write-in candidate must receive votes at least equal to fifteen percent of the total number of electors who vote such primary election ballot.

Where there is the name of a living person printed on the ballot as a candidate for an office, the write-in candidate is not subject to the fifteen percent requirement and will be nominated and be the party's candidate at the general election if he received more votes than any other candidate for the office.

Dayton Woman Given Sentence

DAYTON, Ohio (U) — Common Pleas Judge Charles Lee Mills Monday sentenced Mrs. Ruth Anne McDaniel, 54, to 1-20 years in the Marysville Reformatory for Women for the slaying of her common law husband, Roy Boian.

Mrs. McDaniel, a divorcee, was found guilty Feb. 13 of first degree manslaughter in the fatal stabbing of Boian on Nov. 1, 1954. She claimed self defense.

Her attorney, Herbert M. Eikenberry, said Mrs. McDaniel would file an appeal.

Increase In Over-All Cost Of Relief Worries Officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — A $7-a-month over-all increase in the cost of keeping the average Ohio relief case on the rolls is worrying officials of the state welfare department.

The result could be a major overhaul of administration and financing of Ohio's poor relief program when the Legislature meets next January.

Last October, the total cost—administration charges included—of footing the bill for the average Ohio relief case was just a shade over 100. By December, the average jumped to $107.

The total bill in October when the case load was 27,035 was $2,718,643. In December when the case load was 30,359, the cost was $3,250,998.

First off, says John W. Main, chief of the welfare department's Division of Business Administration, he will conduct a statewide survey of the relief picture. It will focus mainly on the standards set by Ohio's 138 relief areas for the qualification of poor relief clients.

The survey will be kicked off by questionnaires to local relief officials. Main emphasized it will not be an investigation of possible "cheating." The state leaves the

Superfort Crash Has Echoes Here

Residents of Washington C. H. and Fayette County today are wondering if the big four engine bomber plane which crashed in a test flight near Dayton Monday, and killed the entire crew of 11 men, was one of those which have been flying back and forth over there so many times recently, at very low altitude.

The four-engine superfort apparently was crippled and seeking a landing spot when it crashed, plowed into an empty farm house near Dayton, and then was torn to pieces by a series of explosions.

Concern has been expressed here by the great number of trips the big planes have been making over the city at altitude too low for safety.

Twins Scheduled For Mental Tests

WESTON, W. Va. (U)—Thomas and Joseph Williams, 14-year-old twin brothers indicted for the bludgeoning slaying of a young cub scout, have been taken to Weston State Hospital for mental examination.

The tests, under directive from the county court, are to be completed by March 18 and trial has been set for April 2.

The boys arrived here yesterday from Wheeling where they are accused of killing David Powell, nine-year-old cub scout. Authorities earlier said Thomas Williams admitted the slaying and exonerated his brother.

But the rising trend in the cost of footing the bill for the average relief case is certain to undergo sharp scrutiny by lawmakers next year.

Increase In Over-All Cost Of Relief Worries Officials

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U) — A $7-a-month over-all increase in the cost of keeping the average Ohio relief case on the rolls is worrying officials of the state welfare department.

Last October, the total cost—administration charges included—of footing the bill for the average Ohio relief case was just a shade over 100. By December, the average jumped to $107.

The total bill in October when the case load was 27,035 was $2,718,643. In December when the case load was 30,359, the cost was $3,250,998.

The survey will be kicked off by questionnaires to local relief officials. Main emphasized it will not be an investigation of possible "cheating." The state leaves the policing of the relief problem to local officials.

Main said one of the principal factors contributing to the rising trend in relief costs is the increasing bill for medical care. Of the total relief bill in December, $1,196,383—more than one-third—was for medical care and hospitalization. The medical bill in 1955 was 18.8 per cent higher than in 1954, Main said.

Results of the survey may have a heavy bearing on the Legislature's decision on relief appropriations next year. The state Senate, grumbling over increased medical costs for relief clients, put strict limits on that type of aid. But later it retreated in the face of the governor's veto.

The state's appropriation to cover the state government's share of local relief costs this year is 15½ million dollars. That, Main estimates, will fall about $630,000 short of meeting the need. Limited by law to meeting 50 per cent of local relief costs, the state has been averaging 47 to 49 per cent, Main said.

The looming deficiency in the state fund could be covered by a transfer from another welfare fund, as was done last year. Or next year's Legislature could make

Spring Rushees Are Honored By Sorority

Members of Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority entertained at a party for spring rushees at the Farm Bureau Auditorium Monday evening and included members of the Xi Beta Psi Chapter as guests.

Mrs. Robert Klever was hostess for evening and she conducted several clever contests and games which had been planned for entertainment and presented several awards.

In the "Leap Year Proposal", Mrs. Roy Hagler received the prize and "Nothing But the Truth" was won by Mrs. John Frost and Miss Martha Hughes.

In a guessing contest, Mrs. Edward Sexton was the winner and in the "Truth or Consequences" game each contestant received an award. Later the members were seated at one long table decorated in a patriotic theme with a miniature log cabin as a centerpiece flanked with red, white and blue candles.

Couple Will Celebrate 50 Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Robinett

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Robinett of the Lewis Road, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at their home on Sunday, March 4 at open house.

They will welcome relatives and friends between the hours of one and five o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Robinett the former Lora Curry and Mr. Robinett were married March 1, 1906 in Springfield and have since made their home in this city.

They have two sons, Emerson and Hugh Robinett, of Dayton, who will be present for the occasion.

Although no formal invitations have been issued Mr. and Mrs. Robinett are extending a cordial invitation to relatives and friends to call between the appointed hours.

Towanka Campfire Girls Hold Meeting

Mrs. Robert Woodmansee, leader, entertained members of the Towanka Camp Fire group for the regular meeting with Mrs. Robert Wallace, assistant leader, also present.

The meeting was opened with the repeating of the Trail Seekers Desire, the singing of the Camp Fire Laws and the praying of the Lord's Prayer.

A discussion was held on safety in the home, and what to do in case of fainting and accidents.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Judy Meyer, which was followed with the singing of the Camp Fire Song.

Members present were: Faye Williams, Phyllis Wallace, Melissa Swengel, Carmella Cousins, Karen Woodmansee, Judy Meyer, Naomi Hollaway, Arita Moats and Carol Dunn.

Personals

Mrs. James F. Parkinson motored to Jackson, Michigan, Monday, for a brief visit with her son, Mr. James Parkinson, Jr., Mrs. Parkinson and children, Penny Sue, Pamela Sue and James III, who will accompany her home for a few days stay before going to Columbus, where they will make their future home. Mr. Parkinson will be associated with the High Street Store of the J. C. Penney Company in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Watson will motor to Blanchester Tuesday evening where their daughter Barbara, will appear with Victor Tooker's Accordion Orchestra, of Wilmington of which she is a member, in a program put on at the new elementary school building.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keefer, son Joe and Mrs. D. G. Waters, motored to London Saturday to attend funeral services for Mr. Keefer's nephew, Charles Keefer.

Jr. DAR Meets At Slagle Home

Mrs. Richard Rankin, chairman of CAR presided over the regular meeting of the Martha Washington Committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution, held at the home of Mrs. Harold Slagle, Monday evening in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Willard Bitzer.

Mrs. Rankin led in the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, and read a most interesting article entitled "Travel Turns Her Into a Flag-Waver" which had to do with a person who had travelled abroad and increased her admiration for the flag upon her return to her native United States.

The usual reports were read and approved and Mrs. Rankin gave a most interesting report on the progress of the CAR which is sponsored by the Martha Washington Committee.

Mrs. Ronald Cornwell led in a discussion on the selecting of a place for the annual pilgrimage with the Taft Museum, in Cincinnati and the Dan Emmett home in Mt. Vernon, as the two tentative places to be visited during the month of May.

The program was planned by Mrs. Ray French, who was unable to be present and was given by Mrs. Loring Duff which consisted of a paper on the subject "Coleraine Resolve", which was written in 1777 preceding famous "Declaration of Independence" and it is presumed that Thomas Jefferson used several ideas from this paper in the making up of this famous declaration.

Mrs. Robert Green also gave an amusing paper on the subject equally interesting as well as "Army Wives of 1777".

At the close of the meeting dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Slagle, and her assistant hostesses, Mrs. John Gerstner and Mrs. Dean Powell, suggestive of the approaching St. Patrick's Day.

Mrs. Robert Heath was included as guest.

Piano Students Present Program For Parents

A delightful class demonstration of beginners who have been studying with their instructor, Mrs. Robert E. Willis and a few additional piano students for the past year, was given at the home studio of Mrs. Willis.

Their work was presented to their parents, consisting of the following features: Keyboard rhythm, blackboard, ear training, history, singing and piano solos.

Children presented were Robert Brubaker, Electa Brubaker, Linda Whiteside, Bill Payton, Jenny Junk, Billi Baer, George Coffman, Jimmy Wade, Richard Wade, David Woodmansee, Stephen Lodwick and Richard Craig.

The guests lingered for a social hour during which Mrs. Willis was assisted by Mrs. Louis Baer and Mrs. Robert Brubaker in the serving of light refreshments.

Crusade Class Holds Meeting

Members of the Christian Crusade Class of the South Side Church of Christ held their monthly meeting in the church basement Monday evening.

The president, Esther Kinzer, presided over the meeting and opened with prayer also leading the devotions which included Scripture reading.

The usual reports were given and Mr. T. N. Willis, class teacher, lead in a discussion on an Easter project, which will be the presenting of a basket to a shut-in child. It was also decided to continue an attendance contest, and the meeting was closed with prayer by Joe Coulter.

Mr. Willis conducted a Bible contest and a social hour was enjoyed during which Mrs. Ned Kinzer and Mrs. Thomas Willis served light refreshments.
Rev. David Meyer was included as a guest.

SUPPLICATION

Dear Lord, kind Lord,
Gracious Lord, I pray
That I may grow in grace
Each coming day;
Help me to say "thy will,
No mine, be done;"
This in the name of Him,
Thy martyred Son.

Search me, O God, I pray
And know my heart;
Grant that thy spirit be
Of mine a part;
Help me to wholly yield
Unto thy plan,
So I can duly serve
Both God and man.

Lord, let my lamp within
Burn clear and bright;
So that the passing world
Can see its light;
Grant that my pilgrim soul
Be swift up-borne
Upon thy wings of love,
Some golden morn.

QUESTION

Are you holding to your faith?
Are you putting first things first?
Are you doing as the Lord
Would have you do?
Are you walking day by day,
In the straight and narrow way?
Are you serving God
As he is serving you?

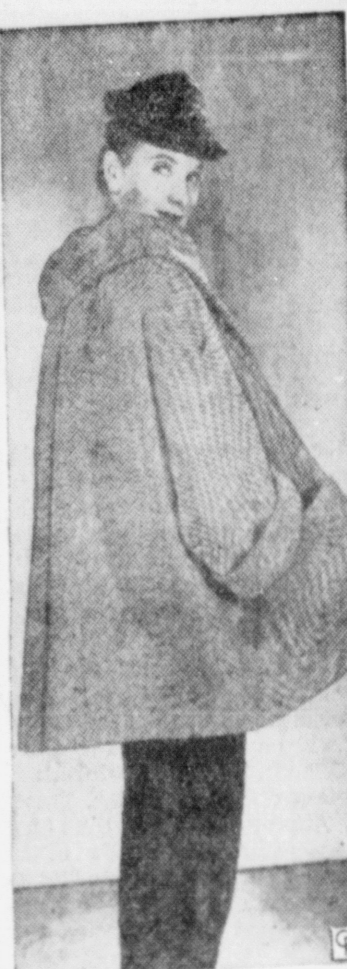

In your struggle for a crown,
Are you going up or down?
Or are you standing still,
In doubt and fear?

Are you anchored safe above,
In the harbor of his love?
Or are you idly drifting,
Year by year?

Ask yourself on bended knee,
What does God require of me?
This the answer you will find
Purity of heart and mind.

Editors Rate Middletown A Top 'A' Team

Willshire Continues To Get Nod As Best In Class B Category

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—They may not be around for the state finals March 23-24, tournaments being the settings for upsets, but Ohio's sports editors figure that as of today the best high school basketball teams in the state are Middle town and Willshire.

In the final Associated Press poll of the year, 52 writers put the two powerhouses right where they've been all season—at the top of their respective divisions.

The five-time Class A state champion Middies, pride of Coach Paul Walker, have won 17 in a row. The Willshire squad, coached by Bob Ganes, has 21 straight and just missed the Class B title a year ago, losing to Lockland Wayne in the finals at Cincinnati.

Due to last week's results, and a flood of votes from the northern sector, the top 10 listings had quite a shakeup in the grand finale. Columbus East's 1951 champions jumped from fourth to second in Class A; Canton McKinley leaped all the way from 11th to fourth by handing Canton Timken its first loss in 18 starts, 70-49; idle Akron South skidded from third to sixth, and Lorain dropped to among the also-rans to make room for Bun Reareick's resurgent McKinley squad.

The heavy northern vote upset the Class B rankings more than somewhat. North Lima and Pleasant City, with a combined record of 41-3, were erased from the top 10 as Ottawa Hills (14-3) and Rossford with a not-too-imposing 12-2 record, jumped from among the honorable mention list to a four-way tie with Berne-Union and Sycamore for sixth place.

Glenford, boasting a 23-0 record to match second-place Sulphur Springs for the state's best mark, was relegated from fifth to tenth, although winning twice last week, although winning twice last week.

Last year the final ratings in Class A were: Columbus East, Findlay, Canton McKinley, Gallipolis, Mansfield, Toledo, Libbey, Portsmouth, East Liverpool, Shelby and Sylvania, Columbus East, Mansfield, Toledo, Libbey and Portsmouth. Reached the 16-team regionals, all but Portsmouth in the four-team Toledo test, but Columbus East was the only one to get to the state finals.

The Class B record was unimpressive. The top 10 teams were Vienna, Lockland Wayne, Warren, St. Mary, Willshire, Rio Grande, Strasburg, Newark, St. Francis, Pleasant City, Copley and Bowersville—and all but the last two reached the regionals, making up half the field. And of the top eight in the poll Vienna, Lockland Wayne, Willshire and Pleasant City made up the state tournament cast.

Thus, given 10 teams to name, the sports editors picked the entire Class B state tournament contingent from a field of almost 750 schools.

Here is how Ohio sports editors rated the state's Class A and Class B basketball teams in this, the final poll of the season (figures in parentheses denote first place votes):

Class A	Team	Poll Pts.	W-L
1	Middletown	20	24-7
2	Columbus East (9)	23	24-7
3	Canton McKinley (5)	18	18-8
4	Cleveland East (8)	17	17-9
5	Willshire (1)	16	16-10
6	Canton Timken (6)	15	15-11
7	Newark (10)	14	14-12

Ralph Sommers Preps for Meet

1954 WHS Grad Is Key Ohio U. Diver

Ralph Sommers, a 1954 Washington C. H. High School graduate now a sophomore at Ohio University, is one of the Bobcats' leading divers in his first year of Varsity competition. He is a mathematics major at the university.

He was a member of the National Honor Society and was active in gymnastics and class plays while in high school here. In athletics, he played basketball and was on the track squad.

Now, he is practicing daily to get in shape for the Mid-American Conference championship meet at Bowling Green on March 8.

The young member of the University diving team finished second against Kenyon College and placed third in a dual meet with Indiana University.

THE BOBCATS hope that he will help improve their second place showing of last season's Mid-American Conference meet. He has looked progressively stronger in the dual meets and should be a serious threat for Mid-American Conference diving honors, according to university sources.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sommers of 428 Forest Street, Mrs. Sommers is a teacher at Eastside School.

The elder brother of chunky John Sommers, football and basketball ace at the high school here now, Ralph is a tall lean lad who played basketball and ran on the WHS track team.

To keep in trim and practice his diving technique—besides holding down a summer job—Ralph has been working as a lifeguard at the swimming pool here during summer vacations.

Mort Lindsey of Stamford, Conn., holds a 194 average after 44 years of competition in American Bowling Congress tournaments.

Lions To Play At 7 O'clock

The WHS Lions will get into tourney action tonight (Tuesday night) in Columbus, with Groveport's cagers providing the opposition.

The WHS-Groveport contest, second of the evening is scheduled as the second game of the evening at 7 P. M. It will be on the court of the Columbus colosseum.

The first game of the evening will be between Columbus West and North.

Groveport is pretty much an unknown quantity according to the Lion mentors. While they have a lukewarm 9-9 record, they play in a league that offers plenty of opposition.

Lions have a 15-3 season tally. If the slightly-favored Lions win, they will meet Columbus Central at 7

Editors Rate Middletown As Top 'A' Team

Willshire Continues To Get Nod As Best In Class B Category

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—They may not be around for the state finals March 23-24, tournaments being the settings for upsets, but Ohio's sports editors figure that as of today the best high school basketball teams in the state are Middletown and Willshire.

In the final Associated Press poll of the year, 52 writers put the two powerhouses right where they've been all season—at the top of their respective divisions.

The five - time Class A state champion Middies, pride of Coach Paul Walker, have won 17 in a row. The Willshire squad, coached by Bob Games, has 21 straight and just missed the Class B title a year ago, losing to Lockland Wayne in the finals at Cincinnati.

Due to last week's results, and a flood of votes from the northern sector, the top 10 listings had quite a shakeup in the grand finale.

Columbus East's 1951 champions jumped from fourth to second in Class A; Canton McKinley leaped all the way from 11th to fourth by handing Canton Timken its first loss in 18 starts, 70-49; idle Akron South skidded from third to sixth, and Lorain dropped to among the also-rans to make room for Bup Reardon's resurgent McKinley squad.

The heavy northern vote upset the Class B rankings more than somewhat. North Lima and Pleasant City, with a combined record of 41-3, were erased from the top 10 as Ottawa Hills (14-3) and Rossford with a not-too-imposing 12-9 record, jumped from among the honorable mention list to a four-way tie with Berne-Union and Sycamore for sixth place.

Glenford, boating a 23-0 record to match second-place Sulphur Springs for the state's best mark, was relegated from fifth to tenth although winning twice last week.

Last year the final ratings in Class A were: Columbus East, Findlay, Canton McKinley, Gallipolis, Mansfield, Toledo Libbey, Portsmouth, East Liverpool, Shelby and Sylvania, Columbus East, Mansfield, Toledo Libbey and Portsmouth reached the 16-team regionals, all but Portsmouth in the four - team Toledo test, but Columbus East was the only one to get to the state finals.

The Class B record was unimpressive. The top 10 teams were Vienna, Lockland Wayne, Warren St. Mary, Willshire, Rio Grande, Strasburg, Newark St. Francis, Pleasant City, Copley and Bowersville—and all but the last two reached the regionals, making up half the field. And of the top eight in the poll, Vienna, Lockland Wayne, Willshire and Pleasant City made up the state tournament cast.

Thus, given 10 teams to name, the sports editors picked the entire Class B state tournament contingent from a field of almost 750 schools.

Here is how Ohio sports editors rated the state's Class A and Class B basketball teams in this, the final poll of the season (figures in parentheses denote first place votes):

First Tournament Game For Jeff Is Wednesday Night in Scioto County

Jeffersonville's newly - crowned Fayette County cage champions will be walking into a hornet's nest of other champions when they enter the district tournament Wednesday evening at Clay High School in Scioto County.

The tourney, which gets underway tonight (Tuesday night), brings together some of the hottest teams in the south central Ohio area. Each has been crowned champion in a county B-league tournament like the one wound up here on Saturday.

Four of the teams have drawn seeds on the basis of their red-hot records. They are West Union (22-1), Clay (21-1), Beaver (18-4) and Chesapeake (18-5).

Jeffersonville is slated to play the third - seeded team, Beaver, right off the bat in their opener Wednesday. Beaver is the Pike County champion.

The game is slated for 7:30 P. M. Wednesday at the Clay High School, four miles north of Portsmouth on Route 23.

IF JEFF gets past Beaver, they will play their second-round game against another team with an 18-4 won-and-loss record. That outfit is Fairland, which drew a bye into the second round of the tourney and will therefore be making its first appearance.

That contest is scheduled for 9 P. M. on the Clay court.

Jeff, with its 14-6 record, rates just below the middle of the pack. Eight teams have better records; five have worse ones.

Despite the fact that seeds were awarded on the basis of the teams' records, nobody pretends that the method is supposed to give the most accurate prediction of the order in which the teams will wind up the tourney.

Even comparing team's records against the same opponents is a risky business. But none of these teams has played more than a few of the same teams, making comparison all but impossible.

The unseeded teams in the tourney are Locust Grove (15-11), Bu-ford (19-5), Huntington (12-8), Fairland (18-4), New Boston (18-4), Fairfield (12-11), Green (21-4), Oak Hill (14-4) and Centralia (9-10).

All the records are complete, including both regular - season and tourney games. In a few cases, notably that of unseeded Green with its 21-4 tally, records include A-league games. Only class B wins and losses were counted in seeding tourney teams.

Bob Pettit Tops Pro Cage Scorers

NEW YORK (AP)—The most productive one-week performance in National Basketball Assn. history has catapulted Bob Pettit of St. Louis well into the lead for the individual scoring title.

He totaled 190 points (a 31.7 point-a - game average) in six games last week and added 23 last night to take a 78-point edge over Philadelphia's Paul Arizin.

Pettit has a 1,549 total to Arizin's 1,471. Both have played 6 games.

Dons, Illinois Still Rated As Lead Teams

NEW YORK (AP)—With the college basketball season nearing the tournament stage, the leading teams won't hold still long enough to be counted by the pollsters—all except San Francisco and Illinois, that is.

The unbeaten San Francisco Dons, on top of the rankings every week this season, held their place unchanged today in the 12th weekly Associated Press poll.

Illinois, in spite of a 3-point defeat by Ohio State clung to the No. 2 spot. Not one of the other top 10 maintained the same place it held a week ago.

Dayton moved from fourth to third place with 684 points. Louisville skidded from third place to sixth after dropping a decision to Eastern Kentucky; Vanderbilt went from fifth to seventh following a loss to Kentucky; and Kentucky and Temple dropped clear out of the first 10.

Alabama, which belted Kentucky's Wildcats 101-77 to hold sway as the only team unbeaten in Southeastern Conference competition, moved up from seventh to fourth; North Carolina State, heading into the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament with a 21-3 season record, advanced from sixth to fifth, and North Carolina went from ninth to eighth. Southern Methodist, the Southwest Conference champion, and Iowa, tied for the Big Ten lead, took over at ninth and tenth.

North Ohio Gets 6 Inches Snow; Scioto River Crests

(By The Associated Press)
Snowfall which ranged upward to six inches in the northern third of Ohio and downward to a trace in the southern part of the state left motorists with hazardous driving conditions today. It also brought back winter weather after a few days of spring temperatures.

In Columbus, the state highway patrol warned of "rather hazardous" driving conditions throughout the state. Temperatures below freezing made many highways slick.

The weather bureau in Cleveland said the worst of the snowfall was over at midnight, but that flurries would continue in some areas today. The mercury was not expected to rise above the 31-degree mark in northern Ohio.

The snowfall was caused by a rapidly moving low pressure disturbance which was centered in Illinois, the weather bureau said.

Three to six inches of snow was reported in the Cleveland area, two inches in Canton, Toledo, Mansfield and Findlay, one inch in Dayton and a light covering at Cincinnati. Youngstown was hit with four inches.

The snow ended springlike weather in Columbus, where the temperature climbed to 58 degrees. A high of 35 degrees was expected there today.

Cigarette Use Linked Again To Cancer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dr. Everts A. Graham, noted chest surgeon who made the first extensive study of the possible relationship of cigarette smoking to lung cancer, says that painting the ears of rabbits with tobacco tars has produced "very malignant cancers."

He said in a speech last night this disclosure is "additional evidence that cigarette smoke contains a factor that will produce cancer in experimental animals of unrelated species." He and his staff had produced cancers in four strains of mice in recent years.

He said these studies, combined with "strong statistical evidence of a causal relationship between heavy cigarette smoking and lung cancer," constitute "about as strong evidence that cigarettes can cause lung cancer as can reasonably be expected."

"However," he said, "it should be stated that, in exceptional cases, cigarettes are not the cause of the lung cancer but that other factors are operative" and in some cases "the cancer-producing factor in cigarettes may be working with another cancer-producing factor from industrial pollution of the atmosphere."

Dr. Graham made his remarks while accepting the 1955 award for outstanding service to medicine and pharmacy by the Alumni Assn. of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy and Allied Sciences.

Church Filled On Invitation By Salesman

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Though few of the celebrities he invited showed up, persons of all faiths came and salesman Kenneth Ritchel kept his promise to fill the First Methodist Church here last evening.

Ritchel took it on himself to get more people to attend the services. Going on the theory that almost everyone will come to church if someone invites them, he invited members of all denominations, entire clubs and a whole host of celebrities.

He received thanks from such persons as President and Mrs. Eisenhower and Gov. Allan Shivers. Ritchel estimated that more than 2,700 persons showed up. If extra chairs hadn't been available, there would have been standing room only.

Nearly everyone in town heard of Ritchel's challenge to himself to pack the church. He used prayer, persuasion, personal letters and invitations.

Newspapers, radio and television helped spread his invitation to "come fill your cup with good fellowship."

The entire congregation sang the Lord's Prayer at Ritchel's request.

Dr. Robert E. Goodrich Jr., pastor, presented Ritchel with a hymnal. Ritchel thanked everyone for coming, invited them back and said:

"When you tap the resources of God, nothing is impossible."

Senators Use Trick To Gain New Vote

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) used a political trick in an effort to win votes for the Democrats.

He used a taxi to go to Hope High School for a speech and was going to give the driver a substantial tip with a plea to vote Democratic.

"Instead of a big tip," Kennedy said, "I decided to give him no tip at all and told him to vote Republican."

Sen. Kilgore Suffers Stroke

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—The condition of Sen. Kilgore (D-W. Va.), who suffered what was described as a "minor stroke" Saturday, was reported as serious at the U. S. Naval Hospital today.

His administrative assistant, Harold C. Miller, said, however, that the 63-year-old senator has shown some improvement since Saturday.

Cigarette Use Linked Again To Cancer

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Dr. Everts A. Graham, noted chest surgeon who made the first extensive study of the possible relationship of cigarette smoking to lung cancer, says that painting the ears of rabbits with tobacco tars has produced "very malignant cancers."

He said in a speech last night this disclosure is "additional evidence that cigarette smoke contains a factor that will produce cancer in experimental animals of unrelated species." He and his staff had produced cancers in four strains of mice in recent years.

He said these studies, combined with "strong statistical evidence of a casual relationship between heavy cigarette smoking and lung cancer," constitute "about as strong evidence that cigarettes can cause lung cancer as can reasonably be expected."

"However," he said, "it should be stated that, in exceptional cases, cigarettes are not the cause of the lung cancer but that other factors are operative" and in some cases "the cancer-producing factor in cigarettes may be working with another cancer-producing factor from industrial pollution of the atmosphere."

Dr. Graham made his remarks while accepting the 1955 award for outstanding service to medicine and pharmacy by the Alumni Assn. of the St. Louis College of Pharmacy and Allied Sciences.

Church Filled On Invitation By Salesman

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Though few of the celebrities he invited showed up, persons of all faiths came and salesman Kenneth Ritchel kept his promise to fill the First Methodist Church here last evening.

Ritchel took it on himself to get more people to attend the services. Going on the theory that almost everyone will come to church if someone invites them, he invited members of all denominations, entire clubs and a whole host of celebrities.

He received thanks from such persons as President and Mrs. Eisenhower and Gov. Allan Shivers. Ritchel estimated that more than 2,700 persons showed up. If extra chairs hadn't been available, there would have been standing room only.

Nearly everyone in town heard of Ritchel's challenge to himself to pack the church. He used prayer, persuasion, personal letters and invitations.

Newspapers, radio and television helped spread his invitation to "come fill your cup with good fellowship."

The entire congregation sang the Lord's Prayer at Ritchel's request. Dr. Robert E. Goodrich Jr., pastor, presented Ritchel with a hymnal. Ritchel thanked everyone for coming, invited them back and said:

"When you tap the resources of God, nothing is impossible."

Senators Use Trick To Gain New Vote

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) used a political trick in an effort to win votes for the Democrats.

He used a taxi to go to Hope High School for a speech and was going to give the driver a substantial tip with a plea to vote Democratic.

"Instead of a big tip," Kennedy said, "I decided to give him no tip at all and told him to vote Republican."

Sen. Kilgore Suffers Stroke

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—The condition of Sen. Kilgore (D-W. Va.), who suffered what was described as a "minor stroke" Saturday, was reported as serious at the U. S. Naval Hospital today.

His administrative assistant, Harold C. Miller, said, however, that the 63-year-old senator has shown some improvement since Saturday.

Heart Sunday Tops $2,000

City Passes Goal;
Rural Total Not In

The Heart Fund topped $2,000 today, with results of the Heart Sunday drive still incomplete.

The $2,063.32 total reported Tuesday from Heart Sunday collections brought Fayette County almost two-thirds of the way to its $3,125 goal. In Washington C. H., all but "five or six" Heart Sunday workers have reported, according to the fund drive chairman, Miss Marian Moore. The $1,497.34 collected so far in the city has already topped the $1,463 goal for the entire month-long drive.

In the rural townships of the county, only about half the workers have reported, Miss Moore said. So far, they have turned in $565.98 of the $1,662 quota. The total from the Heart Sunday collection is expected to be the largest single source of funds for the drive. But it is still only a part of the overall campaign.

Other boosts for the drive include $135 from a benefit movie sponsored jointly by the Y-Teens at Washington C. H. High School and the Fayette Theater; money collected in the plastic hearts displayed in the county's business places; the income expected from a benefit talent show to be held March 9 at the High School and proceeds of a special drive among the businesses and organizations of the county.

HEART SUNDAY totals for the city are all but complete, Miss Moore announced Tuesday. Only five or six workers have still to report.

In the county drive, about half the workers have reported. The Millersville and Jeffersonville drives are completed, as are the ones in Jasper, Wayne, Concord and Madison Townships.

In Union Township and Bloomington, workers have nearly all reported in. Still to be heard from are the workers in Perry, Green, Jefferson, Marion and Paint Townships.

Miss Moore said the workers reported that Sunday was "such a nice day that many people were away." In that case, the workers had been instructed to leave a "not-at-home" envelope, but the supply didn't last.

"If anyone wasn't contacted but wants to contribute," she said, "he can do so by mailing his gift to Robert Olinger at the First National Bank in Washington C. H. Checks should be made out to the Heart Fund."

Miss Moore added, "I'd like to thank all the workers who went out and did such a wonderful job. The county Heart Association owes them a real debt of gratitude."

Many Are Fined In Court Here

One Man Is Sent To The Workhouse

Acting Municipal Court Judge F. Scott Zimmerman, had a lengthy session of court Monday, during which he levied many fines, sentenced one man to the Cincinnati Workhouse for 90 days and declared a number of bails forfeited.

Alonzo Arnold Hart, on a driving while drunk charge, was fined $100 and costs and given 90 days in the workhouse. He was taken there by Chief Vaiden Long Tuesday afternoon. On a charge of driving while his license was revoked, Hart drew 30 days in jail but this was suspended.

Charles J. Molloy was fined $15 and costs for running a stop sign. Emerson Edward Peterson drew $200 and costs and 10 days in jail for driving while drunk. His license was not revoked but probably will be by the state.

Clarence Davis, also on a driving while drunk charge, was fined $200 and costs and given 10 days in jail.

George William Rostfer, for assault, the case was dismissed at request of the complainant.

Five plain drunks drew $5 and cost each.

Charles Jackson, Jr., on disorderly charges, was fined $30 and costs.

Lewis Price, Greenfield, drew $200 and costs and 10 days in jail for driving while drunk.

Harry Baker, running red light, forfeited $15 bail.

Lion Club Minstrel All Set for Tonight

The final dress rehearsal for the Washington C. H. Lions Club "Minstrel Capers of 1956" was held Monday evening in the high school auditorium.

According to John Breiner, general chairman of the show, "every thing went smoothly and we'll be ready to stage a good show Tuesday night."

The endmen, he said, worked very well together and the chorus was described as "the best we've had in recent years."

The Lioness Club's skit is ready too, Breiner said, adding that "the only thing we don't have under control is the appearance of the mystery guest artist and that is such a closely guarded secret we haven't even seen a preview."

The show will get underway with the welcome expressed by Dustin Gorton, president, at 8:15 P. M.

Sears Pension Fund Report At Office Here

A report on their individual findings in the Sears, Roebuck & Co. Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund, has been received by the employees of the Sears catalog sales office here.

Atlee G. Daves, manager of the office here, said the total assets of the Fund now exceed $850,000,000 of which slightly more than $100,000,000 represent deposits from the wages and salaries of the members. The fund, he said, is open to all regular employees with a year or more with the company, Daves said.

The Fund is the largest single stockholder in the company with more than 25 percent of the outstanding stock.

Final Tribute Paid To Mrs. Haymaker

Final tributes were paid to Mrs. Mary Hays Haymaker when funeral services were held for her at 2 P. M. Monday at the Gerstner Funeral Home.

Dr. Paul Elliott, pastor of McNair Memorial Church on Lewis Street, in which Mrs. Haymaker was so active for so long, conducted the services. The minister offered prayer, read the 25th to the 34th verses from Matthew "Rock of Ages" and "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go" and paid a personal tribute to Mrs. Haymaker.

The pallbearers, who also cared for the floral remembrances, were Willard Perrill, Clarence Campbell, Glenn Heistand, Dale Thornton, Harold Engle and Orville Wilt. Interment was in the Bloomingburg Cemetery.

They're just about to catch the crook.

The sergeant draws his gun... but look! Jim's picture tube went blank to stay.

But "14-K" saves the day!

"Ah-h-h...beer at its golden best!"

The truth is that good golden Hudepohl starts out much the same as other really fine beers. With extra-generous portions of grains and hops and yeast and malt. Ingredients of a quality for which we gladly pay a premium. That's what makes a great beer. That plus patience and skill. But then we do something different.

What we do is a closely guarded secret. It's a special, costlier step in brewing. You might call it a finishing process. And what it does is make Hudepohl even brighter and more golden. So we named it Process 14-K. And that's why Hudepohl is more than just another fine beer. It's "14-K!" Which means... it's beer at its golden best!

Good golden HUDEPOHL Beer

Heart Sunday Tops $2,000

City Passes Goal;
Rural Total Not In

The Heart Fund topped $2,000 to day, with results of the Heart Sunday drive still incomplete.

The $2,063.32 total reported Tuesday from Heart Sunday collections brought Fayette County almost two-thirds of the way to its $3,125 goal.

In Washington C. H., all but "five or six" Heart Sunday workers have reported, according to the fund drive chairman, Miss Marian Moore. The $1,497.34 collected so far in the city has already topped the $1,463 goal for the entire month-long drive.

In the rural townships of the county, only about half the workers have reported, Miss Moore said. So far, they have turned in $565.98 of the $1,662 quota.

The total from the Heart Sunday collection is expected to be the largest single source of funds for the drive. But it is still only a part of the overall campaign.

Other boosts for the drive include $135 from a benefit movie sponsored jointly by the Y-Teens at Washington C. H. High School and the Fayette Theater; money collected in the plastic hearts displayed in the county's business places; the income expected from a benefit talent show to be held March 9 at the High School and proceeds of a special drive among the businesses and organizations of the county.

HEART SUNDAY totals for the city are all but complete, Miss Moore announced Tuesday. Only five or six workers have still to report.

In the county drive, about half the workers have reported. The Milledgeville and Jeffersonville drives are completed, as are the ones in Jasper, Wayne, Concord and Madison Townships.

In Union Township and Bloomington, workers have nearly all reported in. Still to be heard from are the workers in Perry, Green, Jefferson, Marion and Paint Townships.

Miss Moore said the workers reported that Sunday was "such a nice day that many people were away." In that case, the workers had been instructed to leave a "not-at-home" envelope, but the supply didn't last.

"If anyone wasn't contacted but wants to contribute," she said, "he can do so by mailing his gift to Robert Olinger at the First National Bank in Washington C. H. Checks should be made out to the Heart Fund."

Miss Moore added, "I'd like to thank all the workers who went out and did such a wonderful job. The county Heart Association owes them a real debt of gratitude."

Many Are Fined In Court Here

One Man Is Sent To The Workhouse

Acting Municipal Court Judge F. Scott Zimmerman, had a lengthy session of court Monday, during which he levied many fines, sentenced one man to the Cincinnati Workhouse for 90 days and declared a number of bails forfeited.

Alonzo Arnold Hart, on a driving while drunk charge, was fined $100 and costs and given 90 days in the workhouse. He was taken there by Chief Vaiden Long Tuesday afternoon. On a charge of driving while his license was revoked, Hart drew 30 days in jail but this was suspended.

Charles J. Molloy was fined $15 and costs for running a stop sign. Emerson Edward Peterson drew $200 and costs and 10 days in jail for driving while drunk. His license was not revoked but probably will be by the state.

Clarence Davis, also on a driving while drunk charge, was fined $200 and costs and given 10 days in jail.

George William Rostfer, for assault, the case was dismissed at request of the complainant.

Five plain drunks drew $5 and cost each.

Charles Jackson, Jr., on disorderly charges, was fined $30 and the costs.

Lewis Price, Greenfield, drew $200 and costs and 10 days in jail for driving while drunk.

Harry Baker, running red light, forfeited $15 bail.

Lion Club Minstrel All Set for Tonight

The final dress rehearsal for the Washington C. H. Lions Club "Minstrel Capers of 1956" was held Monday evening in the high school auditorium.

According to John Breiner, general chairman of the show, "every thing went smoothly and we'll be ready to stage a good show Tuesday night."

The endmen, he said, worked very well together and the chorus was described as "the best we've had in recent years."

The Lioness Club's skit is ready too, Breiner said, adding that "the only thing we don't have under control is the appearance of the mystery guest artist and that is such a closely guarded secret we haven't even seen a preview."

The show will get underway with the welcome expressed by Dustin Gorton, president, at 8:15 P. M.

Sears Pension Fund Report At Office Here

A report on their individual holdings in the Sears, Roebuck & Co. Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund, has been received by the employees of the Sears catalog sales office here.

Atlee G. Daves, manager of the office here, said the total assets of the Fund now exceed $850,000,000 of which slightly more than $100,000,000 represent deposits from the wages and salaries of the members. The fund, he said, is open to all regular employees with a year or more with the company, Daves said.

The Fund is the largest single stockholder in the company with more than 25 percent of the outstanding stock.

Jim's picture tube went blank to stay.

But "14-K" saves the day!

"Ah-h-h...beer at its golden best!"

The truth is that good golden Hudepohl starts out much the same as other really fine beers. With extra-generous portions of grains and hops and yeast and malt. Ingredients of a quality for which we gladly pay a premium. That's what makes a great beer. That plus patience and skill. But then we do something different. . . .

What we do is a closely guarded secret. It's a special, costlier step in brewing. You might call it a finishing process. And what it does is make Hudepohl even brighter and more golden. So we named it Process 14-K. And that's why Hudepohl is more than just another fine beer. It's "14-K" which means . . . it's beer at its golden best!

Look for this seal. It's your guarantee of beer at its golden best . . . of purity, brilliance and genuine satisfaction in every drop.
